Magistrate Rules Against Slot Machines

DEFENCE WILL TAKE FIGHT TO APPEAL COURT

Conviction is Ordered in First of Eighteen Gaming Charges on Operation of Candy Machines in City; Fine of $25 Imposed; Candy Worth Less Than One Cent Sold for Five Cents, Court Says; Machines Were Licensed by City Authorities.

Holding that the operation of "slot machines" as outlined in the evidence was an "unlawful game" Magistrate George Jay ruled for a conviction in the City Police Court this morning in the case of Mrs. Dorothy Richards, charged with keeping a common gaming house. He imposed a fine of $25.

Frank Higgins, K.C., defence counsel, intimated he would fight the case through to the Court of Appeal and payment of the fine was reserved for ten days pending his decision on this matter.

The Richards case was a test for a total of eighteen prosecutions brought by police on the operations of the candy slot machines in this city. The machines themselves are licensed by the city, but the manner of handling the tokens paid for by them was the ground for conviction.

The other seventeen cases were adjourned for eight days. The machine in the Richards case was ordered confiscated. In delivering judgment, Magistrate Jay pointed out the definition for a common gaming house was a place operated for gain to which persons resorted for the purpose of games of chance. He reviewed the evidence of the case which showed that a constable had gone into Mrs. Richards' store, played the machine, receiving candy and slugs for his money and then purchasing some gum for one of the slugs. It had been further shown the candy was purchased for $1.20 per gross and was not sold over the counter regularly, being of special type. Its value was apparently less than one cent per roll.

Slot machine cases had been tried in many courts in Canada and there had been varying decisions, the magistrate said. He quoted one of the recent cases in which there had been a dismissal, but, he said, the evidence in that case had shown that the tokens could not be used to purchase goods and the candy obtained from it was regularly sold for five cents. "I can't help thinking, after carefully considering the various points that this must be held to be an unlawful game," he said. "One must take into consideration, however, the fact that the accused thought she was under some protection because the machines were licensed by the city authorities. Of course there are some slot machines which are lawful. She will be fined $25."

Mr. Higgins immediately said he planned to take the case to the appeal court to secure a higher ruling.

EARTHQUAKE RECORDED

New York, March 30.—An earthquake of moderate intensity, estimated to have centred within 4,100 miles of New York, was reported by Fordham University to-day. The disturbance occurred yesterday.

FARMERS WANT TO SELL MORE WOOL TO CANADIAN FACTORIES

Ottawa, March 30.—Closer relationships between the Canadian textile industry and the wool growers of the Dominion were discussed here to-day at a conference arranged by Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture. At its conclusion hope was expressed that the two ends of the industry would be able to come into closer business touch and that the textile manufacturers would deal more extensively with the producers of wool in this country. A number of general phases of marketing and

SWEEPS GIVE $5,000,000 TO IRISH FREE STATE HOSPITALS

Dublin, March 30.—The sudden riches showered on the Dublin hospitals as a result of the Irish Free State hospitals sweepstakes are proving as embarrassing as the lack of money was before. Within a year these sweeps, the biggest of which was on last week's Grand National Sweepstake in England, have furnished the hospitals with $2,500,000, or more than the whole income of the King Edward Hospital Fund, which supplies London. Another $2,500,000 is practically certain to come from the new sweep on the Derby.

OTTAWA SOON IS TO FLOAT GREAT LOAN

Dispatch to Montreal Star Reports Bennett Government Making Explorations

Federal Government's Obligations Within Next 3 1-2 Years $1,000,000,000

Canadian Press
Montreal, March 30.—Outlining the financial obligations Canada will be called on to meet within the next three and a half years, a total of more than $1,000,000,000. The Montreal Star to-day said in an Ottawa dispatch: "It is believed the Prime Minister has in view a great reliance on Canada's capacity to carry out her own financial resources. Such a scheme was advocated by Mr. Bennett when in opposition; though conditions have changed very much since then and the Prime Minister's ideas may have changed with them."

CONFERENCE HELD
The Star, heading the story, "Canada is to float huge internal loan," says: "Consultations with outstanding financial authorities, international as well as national, have taken place during the last two or three weeks, and those who are close to such interests detect something big in the wind."

CIVIL SERVICE OF CANADA TO BE REDUCED

Ottawa, March 30.—Services of a number of Federal civil service temporary employees will be dispensed with to-morrow—the close of the fiscal year. How many could not be ascertained to-day, but officials of the Civil Service Commission said the number would depend on the administrative heads of the departments concerned. The prevailing belief is it will be quite large.

With respect to the reductions which are to be put into effect no information was available to-day that would indicate the positions which have been slated for abolition.

grading were discussed—all to the end of encouraging the textile manufacturers to buy more Canadian wool. D. C. Dick, Cobourg, Ont., and A. Rossmund, Almonte, Ont., represent the textile manufacturers. Wool growers were represented by George E. O'Brien of Toronto, Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers' Association, Chris Jensen, president, and Norman McLeod, secretary of the Southern Alberta Sheepbreeders' Association; F. Martin of Maple Creek, Sask., and P. H. Ashby of Edmonton.

The Irish are now faced with the responsibility of what they themselves admit is a wasteful and obsolete hospital system. More than twenty hospitals participate. They are mostly small, inadequate and antiquated, and housed in slum areas. If the money is spent in reconditioning them, it will mean the long discussed plan for centralization will be shelved. A white-hot controversy has broken out between the supporters of the Fund, which supplies London. Another $2,500,000 is practically certain to come from the new sweep on the Derby.

THEIR PLANE SEARCH FOR VIKING SURVIVORS FAILS

St. John, N.B., March 30.—Bert Balchen, Merion Cooper and Randy Enslow, who landed at the St. John airport on their return after a fruitless search for survivors of the sealer Viking disaster, off northern Newfoundland, were still at the field this morning awaiting clear weather to hop off for New York.

Conservatives Scored For Moves For More Patronage Activities

Vote of $20,000 for Civil Service Commission Causes Power, Quebec, to Ask Questions in Commons

Ottawa, March 30.—The Civil Service Commission was under discussion in the House of Commons this afternoon when C. G. Power, Liberal, Quebec South, demanded from the government a declaration of policy with respect to that body. The House had resolved itself into a committee of supply on the supplementary estimates, tabled by the Prime Minister as Finance Minister, last Friday, and the item under discussion was one of $30,000 for contingencies in connection with the commission. Premier Bennett had explained this was to take care of expenditures for printing.

After strenuous discussion, the vote of $20,000 for civil service contingencies was passed by the House. During the discussion Major Power drew the attention of the committee to a speech attributed to Onesime Gagnon, Conservative, Dorchester, Que., which appeared in "Le Franc Parler," a Quebec newspaper, "published," according to Major Power "under the auspices, or at least with the imprimatur of the chairman," Armand Lavigne, Conservative, Montmagny, Que.

SAUVE MENTIONED
Translating Mr. Gagnon's speech, Major Power presented it as follows: "I denounce this commission. At the next caucus of the party the matter will be brought up. Mr. Sauve (Postmaster-General) complained and regretted that we, the Conservative members, could not recompense the brave numbers of our party. 'The law is the negation of responsible government. To-day a member has not the right to name a messenger of a chauffeur without this being passed upon by commissioners, among whom we often find imbeciles and (Concluded on Page 2)

Prorogation Of Legislature Is Expected Tuesday

Prorogation of the British Columbia Legislature is expected to-morrow with the report to-day that there will virtually be no time limit on the evening session. Good progress was made at three sittings Saturday and one sitting this morning on legislation. Although the Growers' Sales Bill and the Dairy Products Adjustment Bill are expected to come before the House this afternoon the former has been well argued and discussion may be short as contentious amendments have been considerably modified.

SUSPICION ON AUSTRIAN PLAN

Henderson Criticizes Methods Leading Up to Tariff Agreement

London, March 30.—Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, Foreign Secretary, said in a statement to the House of Commons to-day that the methods and time chosen by Germany and Austria in announcing their proposed customs union were calculated to arouse suspicion. The methods nullified the advantages of a frank exchange of ideas afforded by international meetings at Geneva and elsewhere, he said. Austria and Germany took the view their proposals were in conformity with the Geneva Protocol of 1922, he continued, but Austria objected to an examination of their political aspects and at the same time disclaimed any intention of announcing an accomplished agreement.

GERMANY'S ARGUMENT
Mr. Henderson said Germany considered the proposed agreement entirely within the framework of the Geneva Protocol and held that therefore (Concluded on Page 2)

Australian Government To Pay Debt Interest If New South Wales Balks

Bond Obligations to Be Met April 1 in London; If Repudiated by Lang Government, Federal Ministry Will Sue

Canadian Press Cable via Reuters's Sydney, Australia, March 30.—The Government of Australia recognizes a moral, if not a legal, obligation to meet the interest payments on New South Wales state bonds due in London April 1. If Premier J. T. Lang of New South Wales, persists in his repudiatory attitude, the Commonwealth government will meet the payments and seek to recover from the state by legal action. Other state premiers condemn the action of Premier Lang and the matter is liable to become highly involved, in view of the fact that all states pay a portion of their revenue to the Commonwealth government. Premier Moore of Queensland suggested to-day that unless Premier Lang and his Labor Ministry should change their policy, all other states premiers should petition Sir Philip Game, Governor of New South Wales, to dissolve the state Parliament. Decision to meet the New South Wales obligations was left fully in the hands of Premier Scullin and Hon. E. G. Theodore, Federal Treasurer, after a cabinet meeting, and was announced to-day by the Prime Minister.

SNOWDEN SETS BUDGET SPEECH FOR APRIL 27

Chancellor, Who Has Been Ill, Plans Then to Address British Commons

Announcement by Premier Indicates Cabinet Member Is Recovering Health

Canadian Press
London, March 30.—Premier Ramsay MacDonald to-day announced in the Commons Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer, would personally deliver the annual budget address in the House April 27.

The budget speech is awaited with more than ordinary interest this year. The Premier's announcement served to confirm recent unofficial intimations that Mr. Snowden, who has been confined to his home with influenza and cystitis for several weeks, was making a good recovery and would be able to resume his official activities after the Easter recess.

Wm. G. McAdoo Jr. Before Magistrate

Los Angeles, March 30.—William Gibbs McAdoo Jr., oil promoter and son of the former Secretary of the Treasury of the United States, was arrested Saturday evening with a companion on a charge of intoxication and disturbing the peace, it became known to-day.

BIG GAPS IN WHEAT PLANS

World Conference at Rome Struggling With American-European Problem

By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent

Rome, March 30.—The wide difference in opinion between European and other countries was again illustrated at the World Wheat Conference here to-day when Dr. Engelbert Dollfuss, Austrian Minister of Agriculture, urged that European countries should give preference to wheat grown in the Danubian basin. With large maps Dr. Dollfuss showed the high tariff walls as compared with large free trade areas in North America. "Is there equal justice for all or not?" he demanded, after pointing out the Dominions of the British Empire had their mutual preferences and the United States had its trade treaties. He suggested that as a means of alleviating the situation, the great overseas wheat exporting countries should agree to disposal of part of their surpluses at reduced prices in China and America, which would be good (Concluded on Page 2)

NEW $1,000,000 COURTHOUSE IS PLANNED

Cathedral Hill Site Reported Most Likely As House Appropriates $100,000

Location Would Give Victoria Fine Structure Overlooking Lower Part of City

Victoria's new courthouse will be a $1,000,000 structure, a creditable addition to the fine buildings of the Capital City, according to the plans which have been completed by architects at the Parliament Buildings.

Following the introduction in the Legislature at the week-end of the loan bill carrying appropriation of $100,000 to cover the preliminary costs in connection with the buildings, Reginald Hayward, M.P.P., who as senior private city member, has been looking after Victoria's interests in the matter, said two sites are being worked on—one being the government property on Superior Street, back of the Parliament Buildings, and the other being the site of the old Christ Church Cathedral.

The price at which the government is negotiating for the latter, which is reported to be the site favored, was stated to be "between $50,000 and $100,000," which payment is covered by the Legislature's appropriation.

Comparative plans have been drawn by the government architects to show how the courthouse would look on both locations. The architects are working out distinctive designs for the Cathedral Hill site which is next to the impressive new Cathedral and its square and is the outstanding point seen by persons coming to Victoria by boat.

As the old Cathedral block is oblong and narrow, the courthouse plans show a long rectangular building built on the high rock, with its main entrance running down to a lower level on Courtney Street. A slice off the eastern part of the block is set down as being left clear for public automobile parking. The courthouse itself will be two stories high and finished in a distinctive stone.

SKELETON IS FOUND IN ROCKS

Saanich Police Investigate Mystery of Buried Remains

Walled in a natural grave beneath a ledge of rock, the skeleton of a human being was found yesterday afternoon by two children picking flowers near Lake Hill. Police to-day were investigating the matter preparatory to an examination by Coroner E. C. Hart in the possible identity of the remains, which were taken to Sands Funeral Parlors. According to Chief of Police Allan Rankin, who with Constable K. Cummings visited the scene, the remains were found in a rock crevice about six feet long and eighteen inches square, and the end had been blocked up with rocks. It had apparently been there for many years, and there was no article near such as a knife, watch or buttons by which it could be identified. Chief Rankin said it did not appear to be an old Indian grave. Especially was this theory discounted by the shape of the skull, although he was not absolutely certain on this point. There were no marks of violence on the skull. "Bill Workmaster and Ronald Gordon, who were picking Easter lilies, found the skeleton."

COAL GAS KILLS TORONTO BOY

Toronto, March 30.—Cameron Watson, aged eleven, lost his life through asphyxiation and three others in the Watson home had narrow escapes from death early this morning when coal gas fumes seeped through the house from a basement furnace. The father of the family, Mr. Barry Watson, returning from a stroll before retiring, found his wife, two children and the maid unconscious from the fumes. He immediately summoned Mrs. Watson, eight-year-old Nancy and the maid were revived but all efforts failed to restore a spark of life in the boy.

TO BE VISITOR HERE APRIL 17

HON. HERBERT M. MARLER, Canadian Minister to Japan, plans to come to Canada next month, according to private advices received on the Coast. He is reported scheduled to arrive at Victoria April 17 aboard the liner Empress of Japan, planning to go on to Vancouver the same day. From Vancouver he will go almost directly to Ottawa. It will be his first visit to Canada since he went to Tokyo as minister in August, 1929.

SOUTH AFRICA RAISES POSTAGE TO FOUR CENTS

Capetown, South Africa, March 30.—Important changes in the South African customs duties put into operation to-day, were announced by Hon. N. C. Mavange, Minister of Finance, in the budget brought down in Parliament to-day. They are mainly increases. Postage on local and overseas letters will be four cents an ounce, with two cents for every additional ounce. Exemption under the income tax for married couples is reduced from $2,000 to $1,500.

MURDER DONE IN VANCOUVER

Body of N. Watanabe, Japanese Fisherman, Found on Railway Siding

Canadian Press
Vancouver, March 30.—Nasakichi Watanabe, aged forty-nine, Japanese fisherman, was found murdered at 9 o'clock this morning on a railway siding at the rear of the American Can Company's premises, on Railway Street here. The body was mutilated as if the man had been struck with a cleaver or meat axe. He was apparently walking along the track when he was attacked, for police discovered bloodstains on the right-of-way. There were no signs to indicate the body had been carried there.

Two Japanese who were held at the police station for questioning in connection with the affair were released this forenoon. Subsequently another compatriot of the dead man was taken into custody for interrogation. Friends stated that at 8 p.m. Sunday Watanabe had $30 in his possession, but when the body was found only $3.85 was found in the clothes. According to police information Watanabe, who resided on East Cordova Street, is survived by a widow in Japan.

With changes made to meet objections voiced by the Speaker when he ruled them out and the government waiving the points of order that its prerogatives were trespassed upon, the bills amending the Dairy Sales Product Adjustment Act and the Growers' Sales Bill to provide legislation to replace the repealed Fruit and Vegetables Marketing Act will be introduced again in the Legislature and are expected to come up this afternoon. An effort is being made to reintroduce the Vancouver charter amendment bill which gave Vancouver the right to tax waterfront crown leases and improvements be reintroduced but so far the efforts have not met with success.

Virtually since the Legislature opened the three bills have been under discussion, with counsel for both sides and scores of witnesses and others interested in attendance at the Parliament Buildings for days. The dairy bill has already taken up considerable time.

NOTICES ON ORDER DEFEAT
Leading order papers to-day were notices of motion in the names of J. W. Berry, Conservative, Delta, and Col. Fred Lister, Conservative, Creston. Mr. Berry seeks to bring back the Dairy Bill with the amendments to which the Speaker took exception eliminated or changed. Col. Lister seeks to bring back the Growers' Bill with an amendment which raises the plebiscite vote from sixty-five to seventy-five. The objection raised by the Speaker that the bill trespassed on crown prerogatives will be met by an amendment stating the powers contained in the bill shall be exercised by the province only in so far as legislative authority of the province extends. No jurisdiction over inter-provincial trade would be provided for in the new bill it is understood.

The bill to amend Vancouver's charter was to give the city the right to tax waterfront leases and improvements and was approved by the private bills committee after many hours of discussion.

POWERS SOUGHT MODIFIED
In any event the Dairy Sales Products Adjustment Act remains on the statute books the bill amending involving no change in principle but being aimed to assist the committee of adjustment to operate more effectively. Some of the added powers sought under the new bill are the power of collecting adjustment levies have been considerably modified to make the bill less objectionable when it (Concluded on Page 2)

Robber Surprises Four Employees in Toronto Branch in Yorkton, Sask., and Escapes With About $1,700

Canadian Press
Yorkton, Sask., March 30.—Entering the Bank of Toronto branch here at 11 a.m. to-day, a lone bandit held up the four employees and took part of $3,500 in cash which was in the teller's cage. There were no customers in the building at the time, and the robber ordered them to get down on their hands and knees while he backed into the cage and took part of the cash which the teller had previously placed in his till. The bandit remarked to the manager, W. J. Miller, that he "was not taking it all."

Leaving the building, he ran up Third Avenue, where he jumped into a waiting automobile and drove away. R. R. McLaughlin, accountant, and Walter Hoffman, teller of the bank, gave pursuit in a car driven by Charles Beck, while the manager notified town police and R.C.M.P. officials. HUNTED BY POLICE
The bandit was dressed in plain blue overalls, with a light suit. He is described as being about thirty years of age, five feet eight inches in height, and of a dark, foreign appearance. It was estimated the hold-up man obtained between $1,500 and $2,000.

BEAVERBROOK MAKES PEACE WITH BALDWIN

One Breach in British Conservative Party Now Described as Closed

Observers Speculate On the Strength of Reunion on Quota Imports

By Thomas F. Champion, Canadian Press Correspondent
London, March 30.—The Conservative Party of Great Britain and Lord Beaverbrook, Canadian-born peer who had been leading his own political crusade to-day stood re-united. How long the reconciliation will last, however, remains to be seen. They have been at loggerheads for years.

Agricultural tariff matters figured in the exchange of letters between Lord Beaverbrook and Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, head of the Conservative Party machine, in which agreement was reached. The letters were made public yesterday evening.

It was Lord Beaverbrook's move, and he tendered his support if the party would adopt a general policy of increasing the duties on agricultural products, and prohibiting or duties on foreign foodstuffs.

Apparently it was a concession on Lord Beaverbrook's part to agree to the quota and partial prohibition scheme, for hitherto the Empire Crusade leader had been fully out for free admission of Dominion foodstuffs and a tariff tax on foreign foodstuffs.

Chamberlain wrote that he had discussed Baron Beaverbrook's letter with Mr. Baldwin, who had authorized him to say it was his intention to employ the chief department of agriculture "any or all" of the methods enumerated, "and they may be the best way to effect the object aimed at, and to ask election for a mandate for that purpose."

"Accordingly I am glad to think we shall have the co-operation of yourself and your friends in our task, and I welcome your support," he added.

MESSAGE TO DOMINIONS
As a result, Lord Beaverbrook's London Daily Express to-day said: "It means this message goes to the dominions: 'You shall never come to us again as last year and be turned away empty-handed.' Partnership between the dominions and the mother country can no longer be frustrated by the senseless obstinacy of a section or party of politicians."

The London Daily Mail, organ of Viscount Rothermere, who has apparently broken in a measure with Lord Beaverbrook, had no comment. Lord Rothermere's attitude toward his following newspaper magnate's reconciliation with Mr. Baldwin.

NOT THE FIRST TIME
"Not for the first time has Lord Rothermere been left in the lurch by his baronial colleague," said The Manchester Guardian, Liberal. "The only conclusion is that St. Georges has taught Lord Beaverbrook a lesson, both as a newspaper owner and an amateur statesman."

The Guardian added there was nothing petty about Lord Beaverbrook and anybody who saw him at work in the last two by-elections was quickly convinced that as a forerunner he was capable of magnanimity. "His campaign has been honest, and never personally against Mr. Baldwin like the United Empire movement (of Rothermere) was," The Guardian said.

INFLUENCE OF BY-ELECTION
Probably the election of the official Baldwin-supported Conservative in St. Georges, Westminster, by-election, has played an important part in the negotiations toward the truce. In that election an unofficial Conservative backed to the limit by the Beaverbrook press in a campaign against Mr. Baldwin's leadership of the party, was defeated by more than 5,000 votes.

venal persons. The Quebec ministers have my ideas, and I am sure at the next session the law will be abrogated."

QUESTION FOR BENNETT
Had the government any intention of supporting the member for Dorchester? asked Major Power, during the debate on the bill. Prime Minister and the Solicitor-General in London, Mr. Gagnon was asked. Mr. Acting Prime Minister, he said. For that reason his statement was almost an official or a quasi-official one.

BENNETT SPEAKS
Premier Bennett replied that, as already indicated, the appropriation was to take care of expenditures in connection with printing.

The remarks of Mr. Power in respect to the Deputy Speaker, Mr. Bennett, illustrated the point he had made in the House a week ago. Mr. Power was attacking the Deputy Speaker, who could not leave the chair as chairman of the committee of the whole.

He thought it would be sportsmanlike on the part of Mr. Power not to attack the Deputy Speaker while he was presiding.

The Prime Minister declared there would be ample opportunity to discuss the Civil Service Commission later this session.

NO ANSWER GIVEN
J. F. Pouliot, Liberal, Temiscouata, Que., asked Premier Bennett if the government had decided on a policy regarding the reorganization of the civil service in view of the proposed abandonment of the Department of the Interior. Would many civil servants lose their jobs? he asked.

When Premier Bennett made no answer, Mr. Pouliot facetiously asked if the question had been asked impolitely. He asked for an answer "even if it means nothing."

Still no answer came from the Prime Minister.

The people of Canada through the members of the House expected one, proceeded Mr. Pouliot, adding he would be forced to change his "sweet words and adopt rough tones" if the silence should continue.

MYSTERY VOYAGE
Parliament, Mr. Pouliot continued, was being asked to vote money blindly. The opposition had a right to ask for a statement from the government on a mystery voyage to Treasure Island," he said.

NATIVES IN SERVICE
Oscar Boulanger, Liberal, Bellechase,

NEW SECRETARY FOR HIGH COMMISSIONER

Ottawa, March 30.—The Ottawa Citizen to-day said "An important change in the High Commissioner's office in London is pending."

London, K.C., ex-M.P., secretary of the office since 1922, is retiring from the service, although his plans are not yet quite definite.

It is understood Mr. Pascaud will be succeeded by L.L. Colwell, George Vabler, D.S.O., M.C., A.D.C., at present military attaché of the Canadian Office of the League of Nations at Geneva. For a while he resided at Rideau Hall as an A.D.C. to Lord Byng.

Que., asked if native-born Canadians would be retained in the government service in preference to those born outside the country. This, he said, was the substance of a resolution passed by the Native Sons of Canada.

The government members, in Mr. Pouliot's opinion, were "dumb." "Le chat a mangé sa langue," he declared. (The cat has eaten their tongue.) They thought so much they had nothing to say.

FOR OVER-EXPENDITURE
Premier Bennett remained in his seat. To Mr. Boulanger, however, Mr. Bennett answered that the item in question was one that did not affect civil servants, but was connected purely with an over-expenditure of appropriations relative to printing. As far as the government's policy respecting the Civil Service Commission was concerned, that would be made known.

The item of $20,000 was carried and the incident closed.

Ottawa, March 30.—The House of Commons this afternoon was asked to pass supplementary estimates, money needed to take care of commitments in the expiring fiscal year not covered in the main estimates approved a year ago. The total is just under $20,000,000. The year will end to-morrow.

Ordinarily the supplementary estimates do not occupy very much of the time of the House, but there are signs of a storm of criticism may descend on the heads of Premier Bennett and some of his colleagues when estimates for the departments come under review. Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, is expected to have an avalanche of criticism to face from the opposition members who have been continuously pressing for a statement on the Bennett ministry's agricultural policy. Prairie members have seen no ray of hope for the wheat farmers in the speech from the Throne and may be hard to mollify before the $448,000 of Agricultural Development estimates, or part of it, is approved.

It is said the prairie members desire to know the government's policy before they leave their homes in order to get the reaction of their farmer constituents to it.

NONE ESCAPE ANALYSIS
Some of the other estimates also are slated to be slated for a rough time.

DEBATE ON ADDRESS
The money bills provide an interlude to the debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, which is entering its third week. On Wednesday the House will adjourn for Easter recess and on Tuesday, still under the influence of the list of speakers, still mulling about twenty, the expectation is the debate will continue after the holiday.

LENIENT TASK
There are sixty-eight items in the supplementary estimates, including those for the Canadian National Railways, the Government Merchant Marine, the Canadian Navy, the ships and the payment under the Maritime Freight Rates Act. Even should there be no particular hold-up, it will take some time to pass all of these items.

Absence from the House of Premier R. B. Bennett for long periods each day last week was due to some of the Liberal speakers. The general impression is that the Prime Minister is hard at work on his budget.

NANAIMO ISLAND PARK WORK OF C.P.R. IS RUSHED
Vancouver, March 30.—Canadian Pacific Railway Company, Nanaimo Island, last week is starting improvement work in order to be ready for the picnic season. The work, Capt. C. D. Neroutos, general manager of the British Columbia Coast Service of the Canadian Pacific Steamship Company, Capt. R. W. Scholfield, district passenger agent, and Mr. A. Banbridge, engineer, E. and N. Railway Company, were surveying the island.

It is planned to spend about $50,000 on a wharf, station and recreation areas. Other improvements will follow. The wharf will probably be established at Echo Bay, south end of the island. A daily steamer service will be given from Vancouver to the island, starting in June.

It is stated the company plans to change the name of the island to "Malaspina."

HINDENBURG'S DECREE KEEPS GERMANY QUIET
Berlin, March 30.—President Hindenburg's decree invoking the "dictatorship clause" of the constitution to take care of the emergency, the weekend was more quiet than any other seen in Germany in many months. The usual Saturday-to-Monday political riots noticeably were absent.

McAdoo, married and the father of two children, was arrested with John W. Montgomery, a salesman, as the climax to an argument the two were alleged to have had with a taxicab driver.

INDIA TRUCE IS RATIFIED AT CONVENTION

Viceroy-Gandhi Agreement Is Accepted by All-India Congress at Karachi

Sessions Attended by 60,000; Gandhi Is Centre of Enormous Throngs of People

Carachi, India, March 30.—The Delhi truce between Mahatma Gandhi and Baron Irwin, Viceroy, ending the civil disobedience campaign, was ratified by the entire assembly of the All-India National Congress here to-day.

FUTURE OF BURMA
Karachi, India, March 30.—Resolutions, couched in vigorous terms, condemning "attempts of the British Government to separate Burma from India" and endorsing the economic boycott of India of foreign cloth were passed here to-day by the All-India Subjects Committee. The committee is a miniature Nationalist Congress, made up of 300 delegates from provincial congresses throughout India.

In framing the resolutions, Jawaharlal Nehru, their author, declared it was not gold and silver nations were seeking to-day, but oil.

The move toward separation for Burma from India, it was charged in the resolution, "seems to be deliberately engineered to perpetuate British domination there so as to make Burma, together with Singapore, by reason of the presence of oil there, an imperialism in eastern Asia."

OPENING SESSION
Karachi, India, March 30.—There were 60,000 delegates present when the annual session of the All-India National Congress was opened here yesterday evening, complete independence for India being their immediate objective.

Valabhai Patel, president, did not call the congress to order until after sundown.

Mahatma Gandhi, in a flowing white garment, after his congress cabinet, sat on the platform like a group of Roman senators. He said not a word, for it was his customary day of silence.

Women tilted before him, kissing his feet, and from the edges of the crowd thousands pressed forward toward the Mahatma as though drawn toward a magnet. There was not a policeman in the crowd.

In Patel's speech and the speeches which followed, the dominant note was a demand that Great Britain recognize India as mistress in her own house, without safeguards of reservations.

TRAFFIC IMPEDED
Gandhi is becoming the source of the greatest worry in the maintenance of public security and order in the cause of delaying trains, impeding traffic and otherwise interfering with the daily routine of life wherever he appears.

Yesterday, for example, crowds swarmed across a huge field to see their "Mahatma" and the congress leaders were doomed to disappointment, however, for a short distance away the Mahatma was indulging in his peripatetic, his forty-four hours of silence and meditation.

On Saturday the throngs, watching for Gandhi, crowded the rail and road tracks like droves of gigantic ants. They completely blocked the line so the regular New Delhi-Karachi express train, carrying mail to North America and Britain, missed its North Pacific connection, thus delaying the transcontinental post for an entire week.

GREAT STAMPEDES
Even beyond this, the leader is the source of greatest anxiety to those British authorities responsible for security of life and limb of India's natives. Since Gandhi's release from prison two months ago, four persons have been killed and hundreds badly injured in mad stampedes of Indian masses to see him and touch his scanty garments or kiss his feet.

British officials, charged with preserving order, hold Gandhi indirectly, though unwittingly, responsible for the recent slaughter of more than 100 persons at Cawnpore, Kanara, and other places, where thousands had gathered to see him, they say, indirectly out of his movement for independence.

SUSPICION IN AUSTRIAN PLAN
there was no reason why the Council of the League of Nations should deal with the matter. The Geneva pact, he said, was calculated to prevent any nation from threatening Austrian sovereignty.

The German Government would not admit examination of the agreement by the League Council from a political standpoint, he continued, because the agreement was considered to be purely of a technical character. He added that the negotiations would continue along their course and because of the numerous technical details, could not be concluded before two or three months.

COUNCIL DISCUSSION
After outlining the situation, Mr. Henderson announced his intention of raising the whole question for discussion at the next meeting of the League Council to determine the compatibility of the accord with Austria's treaty obligations. If there was a general desire the Council should be assisted by an advisory opinion from the Court of International Justice at the Hague, he said, he would support referring the question to that body.

SUPPORT FOR BRIAND
Paris, March 30.—Aristide Briand's Senate speech Saturday in which he declared he would continue to the bitter end protesting against the proposed Austro-German customs accord, is interpreted by the semi-official newspaper Le Temps as a warning to Berlin and Vienna.

"It must be understood," the newspaper says, "that the entire French nation supports the government in any diplomatic action calculated to thwart this customs union, which would create a dangerous situation in central Europe."

Vancouver Robber Hunted By Police
Vancouver, March 30.—Police here to-day were hunting a bank robber who held up John A. Watson in the front hall of his home on Richards Street at 11:45 p.m. Saturday, and robbed him of stock certificates valued at $1,000.

Watson was in the hall when a car drove up to the house, he reported to police. A man alighted and walked into the house. He threatened Watson with a blackjack and fled with the envelope.

REPORT DENIED
Vienna, March 30.—It was stated officially here to-day that a report in a Paris newspaper to the effect that the proposed Austro-German customs union contained a "secret military clause" directed against the Little Entente, was entirely without foundation.

$1,000,000 COURTHOUSE IS PLANNED
Construction of the new courthouse here has been urged by grand juries and the legal profession for many years because of the crowded condition of the old Bastion Square structure. Actual starting of the work now will go a long way to relieve unemployment here, as it will take considerable time to build and a large number of men will be employed, it was explained.

OTHER APPROPRIATIONS
Also included in the $5,000,000 Loan Bill introduced in the Legislature by Hon. J. W. Jones, Minister of Finance, are these appropriations: $2,500,000 for highways, bridges, ferries, wharves and other public works; $100,000 for the Burrard Street Bridge over False Creek; $250,000 for the bridge at Bella Coola River, with the Department of Indian Affairs; $20,000 for road construction and improvement within municipalities; $200,000 in connection with the University Endowment Lands undertaking, and $150,000 to the conservation fund under the Water Act.

It is set out in the bill that in each case the expenditure shall not exceed the maximum to be spent for each purpose and $2,000,000 of the total may be spent on unemployment relief, or public works.

Nanaimo Southend Defeat Saanich Thistles 5 to 0
Nanaimo, March 30.—Nanaimo Southend Juveniles won the right to meet the champions of the mainland for the juvenile soccer championship by virtue of their 5 to 0 win over Saanich Thistles here yesterday. Southend had a big edge on the play.

McGlenon opened the score for Nanaimo five minutes after the start with a hard drive and scored on a penalty later on. Saanich were seldom out of their own half during the first half with the exception of three brilliant runs by Morgan. He was the best man on the field, but got little or no support from his side. Nanaimo led by 3 to 0 at half time and added two more in second half through Peffer and Golobar. The game was played under unfavorable conditions with rain, ground and heavy rain. McGlenon, Peffer and Golobar were best players for the locals.

SIXTEEN MEET VIOLENT DEATHS

Toll of Accidents in Pacific Coast Cities of the United States

Seattle, March 30.—Violent forms of death claimed sixteen persons on the Pacific coast of the United States over the week-end, an Associated Press tabulation indicated to-day, with automobiles heading the list as the cause of a majority of the fatalities. More than a score were reported injured.

Automobiles caused the deaths of nine persons, three were drowned, two ended their lives, the airplane crash proved fatal to a stunning aviator, a train ran over a child and carbon monoxide gas from one automobile asphyxiated Spokane, Wash., man steering another car. The first was towing.

Six members of Seattle's younger soccer team were injured in an automobile accident.

CHARGE OF INTOXICATION
Charles E. Pears, sixty-three, Spokane, was the carbon monoxide gas victim. His son wrecked the family automobile and was arrested on a charge of driving a car while intoxicated. The elder Pears sought to return the car home and a garage utility machine began towing it. Gas from the first car caused Pears' death as he steered the machine to the garage.

At Rio Vista, Cal., George Didier, fifty-one, San Francisco garage owner, was the victim of an unusual accident. He made a sharp turn in his motorboat and his head struck the sun visor. He toppled into the slough and drowned.

CHURCH WORKER HELD BY CHINA BANDITS KILLED

Death of Rev. Father Tierney
In Southern Part of Country
Is Reported

Shanghai, March 30.—Word has been received here by St. Columban's Mission of the death on March 9 of Father Superior Tierney of the Kiencheng Mission while a captive of Chinese Communists near there. Details of his death were not learned, but the bandits frequently had said they would kill him if ransom money of $40,000 silver were not immediately forthcoming.

In a letter which Father Tierney contributed to smuggle through his captors some weeks ago, he stated he was falling and that he was "quite resigned to die."

Father Tierney was captured last November 17. British authorities made strong representations to the Chinese government in an effort to obtain his release, but with the bandits hidden in the wild mountain regions of Kiangsu, all attempts of soldier detachments to reach them failed.

Details of Father Tierney's capture, received at his Shanghai headquarters, indicated he was subjected to brutal treatment from the day he fell into the bandits' hands. A letter from a colleague who investigated the capture stated:

"Father Tierney was captured just at the door of his church. The bandits tied his hands, stripped him and brutally scourged him. Afterward they threw a soldier's cloak around his shoulders and made fun of his suffering. For five days they kept him in this state. One hand was always tied to his body and they gave him only rice to eat."

"On the fifth day they left town, taking Father Tierney with them. He managed to find his own clothes after before leaving. After walking for about six miles, he fell and sprained his ankle. They placed him on a ladder and carried him to Nanjing, a village farther on."

"While in the town of Song Tang Shu, through which the bandits passed, some of the Catholic Chinese approached him. They say he was a pitiable sight, suffering from malaria at the time. He looked dazed and was practically incapable of speech."

Father Tierney was a native of County Monahan, Ireland. He was fifty-five years old.

BRITAIN PLANS SLASHING COSTS IN INDUSTRY

Longer Working Hours and Speeding Up Told By Balfour

Sydney, N.S., March 30.—Decreased cost is the essential factor attendant on Britain retaining her competitive position among the other nations of the world, and of this fact the British public is now fully cognizant, according to Sir Arthur Balfour, managing director of the Capital Crucible Steel Works of Sheffield, England.

Sweeping changes in its industrial structure, to the extent of reduced wages, longer working hours and a general speeding up of methods of production were described by the steel magnate in an interview here yesterday as co-relating factors of the situation.

At the International Chamber of Commerce conference in Washington, beginning May 3, Sir Arthur will head a group, comprising sixty of the leading figures in the industrial and commercial life of Great Britain, when matters of world-wide interest and importance such as reparations, debts and European and Russian questions will be discussed.

BOWLES FOUND NOT GUILTY AT OREGON TRIAL

Portland, Oregon, Man and Miss Irma Loucks Acquitted
of Murder of Mrs. Bowles

Hillsboro, Ore., March 30.—Nelson C. Bowles and Irma K. Doucks were free to-day.

Only sixty-three minutes were required late Saturday by the jury of twelve men to acquit the Portland millionaire and his former secretary of having murdered Bowles's wife, Mrs. Leone Bowles.

Through four long weeks the defendants had listened to testimony and arguments to prove or disprove that they stabbed the young Portland society matron with fatal results in Miss Loucks's Portland apartment last November 12.

Four times daily they had crossed the little "bridge of sighs" that separates the courthouse from the county jail, where they had been behind bars when they were not in the court room.

Evidently pleased they had been freed to free the two young defendants from the shadows of prison bars and from the hangman's noose, the ten rugged farmers, one father and one train dispatcher, came into the courtroom and took their seats in the jury box, their faces wreathed in happy smiles.

The foreman handed the written verdict to Circuit Judge George H. Bagley, presiding. He read it silently. The tense spectators, anticipating the verdict, leaned forward, but the court was not yet ready to read the verdict. He ordered bailiffs to locate District Attorney Lotus L. Langley and George Mowry, his chief deputy, but they could not be found.

FORBIDS DEMONSTRATION
Judge Bagley unfolded the verdict once more.

"We, the jury, in the above entitled court and cause," he read slowly, "find the defendant, Nelson C. Bowles not guilty."

A ripple of applause started in the rear of the courtroom, but Judge Bagley sternly commanded silence and ordered there must be no demonstration.

A heavy silence hung over the courtroom while the court read the similar verdict acquitting Miss Loucks.

Mrs. Ada D. Fiesel, Miss Loucks's mother, rushed to her daughter and embraced her, tears streaming down her cheeks. Bowles rose and embraced his mother, Mrs. D. A. Chinnor, and his uncle, W. Lair Thompson, one of the defence attorneys.

The judge turned his attention to the jury and thanked the twelve men for their work.

As the final gavel sounded the millionaire and his former secretary walked to the jury box and thanked each other individually for the verdict.

The same nerves of steel that had carried the defendants through the long trial, carried them through the last day's climax without a break. They took no apparent notice of each other.

Bowles and Miss Loucks prepared to leave Hillsboro at once. Neither would make any statement. Indictments on a statutory charge are still pending against them, but the state attorneys have not yet stated what action will be taken in that matter.

HERRIOT QUILTS AS MAYOR OF LYONS, FRANCE

Lyons, France, March 30.—Former Premier Edouard Herriot, radical Socialist Party leader and twenty-five years mayor of Lyons, resigned the latter post yesterday because of a disagreement of his party with the Socialists over the senatorial election in the Rhone department.

Five of his principal assistants resigned with him.

The Rhone prefect accepted the resignations, but asked Herriot to continue in office until a successor can be installed.

Herriot is known as probably the most active mayor in France. He is one of the builders of the modern industrial Lyons, third largest city in population in France and rated second in industrial importance.

MORE SNOW IN MOUNTAIN AREA OF U.S.

Temperatures Moderate in Colorado and Wyoming;
Death Toll Is Sixteen

Associated Press
Kansas City, March 30.—The Middle West, digging out from a snowstorm which took a known toll of sixteen lives last week, found its efforts mocked by a fresh fall to-day.

Snow began falling in the Rocky Mountain states of Colorado, Wyoming and Montana yesterday and late yesterday evening was falling in Nebraska, Kansas and western Missouri. Temperatures were moderate, however, and there was no wind. Forecasts to-day were for precipitation in Oklahoma and northern Texas.

The known deaths list reached sixteen yesterday when the body of Boyd Edwards, seven-year-old Max, Neb., school boy was recovered in a snow-filled canyon, mid-way between his farm home and the schoolhouse which he had left Thursday.

Fifteen of the twenty school children who survived the cold in a stalled school bus near Towner, Colo., were in a Lamar hospital.

Other deaths attributed to the storm included those of three sheep herders, one in Wyoming and two in New Mexico, the body of Charles Beach, fifty-year-old Wyoming herdsman, was found half a mile from his camp wagon. His four-year-old son and a dog were safe at the camp.

Unofficial reports indicated widespread damage to fruit trees. Oats in southwestern Oklahoma were reported frozen. Transportation agencies, with the exception of bus lines in some sections, were returning to normal schedules.

CHICAGO STORE LOSES $50,000 TO ROBBERS

Bandits Surprise Watchman and Engineer and Take Cash,
Cheques and Goods

Chicago, March 30.—Seven bandits took over the Wisbold department store on the South Side of Chicago, held leisurely possession for eight hours and escaped early yesterday morning with $35,000 in cash receipts and approximately $15,000 in cheques, trussing the night watchman and the engineer.

The robbers apparently had hidden in the store before it closed Saturday night. They bound the engineer and forced the night watchman to "punch" his time boxes while the safe was being emptied of its contents.

After taking everything of value from the safe—about $50,000 worth, Wisbold officials said, the robbers turned up the night watchman and the engineer from various other sections, ranging from clocks to men's hats.

Two hours after the robbers had departed with a cheery "good-bye," the engineer and the night watchman freed themselves and notified the police.

YOUTH WHO SLEW GIRL DIES BY HIS OWN HAND

Saskatoon, Sask., March 30.—Death cheated the law and took another life at Beechy, Sask., Saturday afternoon, adding to the toll of a tragedy of youth.

Shot through the brain, and without regaining consciousness, Mervin Elbert Elliott, nineteen, teller in the Bank of Nova Scotia, branch in the village, died at 5 p.m. Saturday, fourteen and a half hours after he had shot and killed the stenographer, Miss Myrtle Breckner, eighteen.

In Dr. Anderson's two-coat hospital the boy lay dying Saturday, while his sister, Miss Meryl E. Elliott, school teacher at Ardath, held his hand and prayed he would speak to her before the end came. He did not speak.

No inquest will be held on the teller's death, a clear case of suicide, but a jury has been empanelled for an inquest into the violent death of the girl. The inquiry will be held here this afternoon.

The only motive for the double tragedy police have discovered was unrequited love.

Train Workers In London Are Slowing Traffic

London, March 30.—The Metropolitan district was threatened to-day with a serious dislocation of railroad traffic as a consequence of insurrection of a go slow or "obey the rules" movement among workers in the freight yards.

The movement is intended, through meticulous observance of a large set of intricate and unwieldy rules, to delay the service greatly in protest against acceptance of wage reductions by the National Union of Railwaymen.

Men in some of the yards began the movement yesterday evening and to-day it seemed to be spreading.

SLAYING OF SIX NINETEEN YEARS AGO CONFESSED

Detroit, March 30.—A written confession of a nineteen-year-old axe murderer of six persons in Villisca, Iowa, signed by Leroy Robinson, alias George Meyers, forty-eight, was made public yesterday evening by detectives of the homicide squad.

The detectives said they had obtained the confession after several days of questioning in the county jail, where Robinson is awaiting sentence on a burglary conviction.

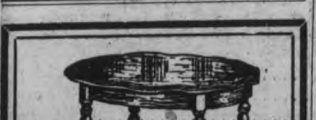

The questioning was instigated by an anonymous letter, the detectives said, and the confession was obtained only after Sheriff John Conkel of Red Oak, Iowa, had furnished local authorities with information concerning the killing on June 9, 1912, of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moore, their four children and two visitors, daughters of Joe Stillinger.

The detectives, Earl Anderson and Max Rickman, offered no explanation of the discrepancy in the number of persons killed.

The written confession detailed the killing of the six members of the Moore family, and said nothing of the Stillinger girls. The prisoner himself was held incommunicado to-day, but detectives represented him as saying he knew nothing of the killing of the visitors.

NEW AGREEMENT PREVENTS COAL STRIKE IN FRANCE

Paris, March 30.—Labor leaders in the coal fields of Northern France yesterday accepted the terms of a compromise proposal by Premier Laval and a general strike affecting 300,000 men which had been scheduled for this morning was called off.

The provisional compromise provides for a wage reduction smaller than that which had been proposed by the operators.

At Valenciennes only 1,000 miners failed to report this morning out of 15,000 employed. In the Pas de Calais basin there were only 1,712 absentees out of 50,000 miners. At Carmaux work is proceeding normally, while the few pits functioning in the Loire Valley experienced no shortage. No untoward incidents were reported in other sections.

Fight At Negro Church In Carolina

Gastonia, N.C., March 3.—Four Gastonia County officers were slashed with knives and two of them seriously wounded yesterday as they attempted to quiet a row at a negro church near here. Before the officers quieted the disturbance they shot to death Cleveland Mason, South Carolina negro. Mason's brother also was wounded.

The trouble took place at the Wesley's Grove Baptist Church, where the annual convention of the Friendly Aid Society of North Carolina and South Carolina, attended by a thousand or more persons, was in session.

The officers were summoned to the church by convention officials, who reported a group of negro men were "drunk and disorderly" and causing trouble.

ARREST FOLLOWS ROBBERY OF MEN PLAYING POKER

Canadian Press
Estevan, Sask., March 30.—Surprising four men who were playing poker here early this morning, a lone robber held them up and scooped up the entire pot, amounting to over $150.

When one of the players started to argue, the bandit, who was arrayed in a flowing black robe with a white handkerchief over his face and an orange colored toque on his head, silenced him with a heavy blow on the jaw. Then, warning his victims not to move until he was gone, he made a quick getaway.

Acting on the suspicion of the card players, Constables Band and MacKay went to the home of a young man who had been in the room about an hour previously and took him into custody, pending further investigation. The young man denied any knowledge of the affair.

The orange toque which the hold-up victims say the gunman was wearing is said to have been found by police in his home.

Alleged Holy Grail Will Be Exhibited Soon

New York, March 30.—A silver cup believed by some scientists to be the one used by Jesus and his Apostles at the Last Supper—the Holy Grail of the legends of King Arthur—will soon be sent to Paris as part of an exhibition of Christian art.

Announcement of the removal of the cup was made to-day by its owner, Fahim Kouchakji. The cup now rests in a bank vault here. It was found in 1910 by archaeologists in Syria.

FRENCH BUDGET VOTE SPEEDED

Paris, March 30.—Sitting all day Sunday and all night, the French Senate, just after dawn to-day, voted the 1931 budget, 280 to 18.

As introduced in the Senate, there are a number of modifications to the measure voted by the House and it will have to go hurriedly back and forth between the two houses in an effort to reconcile the differences before the financial year ends at midnight, Tuesday.

DR. G. A. DORSEY DIES AT HOME IN NEW YORK

New York, March 30.—Dr. George A. Dorsey, sixty-three, author of "Why We Behave Like Human Beings," died unexpectedly at his home here yesterday evening.

He succumbed to an embolism a half hour after receiving from his secretary the final revisions of a new book which was to be published next fall. He apparently had been in good health.

Dr. Dorsey was a native of Hebron, Ohio. When he was twenty-three years old he conducted an anthropological investigation in South America and on his return became head of the archaeological branch of the Department of Anthropology at Harvard University, remaining there until 1896.

Subsequently he was connected with the Field Museum in Chicago and the University of Chicago. In the Great War Dr. Dorsey was commissioned a lieutenant in the naval reserve. He was assistant naval attaché at Madrid and was an adviser on Spanish problems to the United States commission to negotiate peace at Paris.

He also was the author of "The Nature of Man," and "The Evolution of Charles Darwin."

Besides Mrs. Dorsey, he is survived by a daughter and a son, George Chadsey Dorsey.

MUCH NEEDED LEGISLATION

IT MAY BE NEWS TO SOME PEOPLE that at four different sessions of the Dominion Parliament in the last five years Senator N. A. Belcourt has succeeded in getting the upper chamber to pass a bill to prohibit the manufacture, sale, and importation of revolvers and similar weapons, but the subject matter of the measure apparently has failed to interest the House of Commons, for on each occasion it has failed of adoption. We are told that the Attorney-General of all the provinces with the exception of Quebec have approved the proposal as well as the Commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and the chiefs of police in many cities of the Dominion.

In the last twelve months there have been too many unpleasant reminders that crime in Canada of the hold-up variety is seriously on the increase. Mere youths in every province seem to be acquiring firearms for the purpose of intimidating innocent victims ranging from bank managers and paying tellers to ordinary wayfarers on the public highway. There is little comfort for the person who happens to find himself staring into the muzzle of a revolver to reflect upon the fact that his assailant is really a coward at heart, and that courageous action often would frustrate the bandit's nefarious plan. Instinctively he regards discretion the better part of valor—and hands over his valuables.

There would be fewer cases of this kind, however, if Parliament would put Senator Belcourt's bill on the statute books. A provision in a bill of this kind might be made to enable a person living in an isolated section to keep a revolver as a measure of self-protection. Unless some such restriction shall be imposed to make it more difficult for the lawless ones to get their small arms, there is a danger that eventually we shall drift, and add considerably to the difficulties of law enforcement. We know what has happened in the United States.

TEXTILE MANUFACTURES

THE CANADIAN TEXTILE INDUSTRY is the fifth largest group among the manufactures of the Dominion, and it includes five branches of manufacture which are classed among the forty leading industries of Canada. These five are branches which, with the exception of cotton yarn and cloth, work up partly manufactured materials into wearing apparel. Their values in proportion to output are, therefore, higher than those of the primary branches. The primary cotton industry, as already indicated, is among the five, but the primary woollen industry holds lower rank. Even the latter, however, is making steady progress and, according to the latest reports, increased its output by more than twelve per cent in two years.

The primary woollen industry includes four groups, namely, woollen cloths, woollen yarns, carpets, mats and rugs and miscellaneous woollen goods. The woollen cloth industry accounts for approximately forty-five per cent of the total output of woollen textiles. Woollen yarns are responsible for twenty per cent; carpets, mats and rugs for fifteen per cent, and miscellaneous woollens for twenty per cent. The total production of the woollen textile industries in 1929 was valued at $35,177,599. In 1927 the output of this group of industries was $31,212,842. There was, therefore, an increase of approximately 12.7 per cent in the two intervening years. In that period the capital invested in the industry was almost unchanged, the figure for 1929 being $42,843,217, compared with $42,032,864 in 1927.

Ontario is the chief centre of the woollen textile industry in Canada. Out of 119 woollen textile mills in the Dominion in 1929, eighty were in Ontario, seventeen in Quebec, eight in New Brunswick and seven each in Nova Scotia and in the western provinces. Of the production of woollen cloth, Ontario accounted for $14,005,835 out of a total of $16,241,194. Production in Quebec was $1,920,919, the balance being manufactured in the Maritime Provinces. Production figures of woollen yarns are not available by provinces, but Ontario has sixteen out of twenty-seven mills, while of the total capital of $7,699,902, Ontario accounted for $6,406,683. The total production of this branch of the industry was $7,027,242. Of carpets, mats and rugs, Ontario produced $5,354,104 out of a Dominion total of $5,434,555. Of miscellaneous woollen goods, out of a total of $6,476,608, $3,457,612 came from Ontario and $2,850,443 from Quebec.

Comparison of the textile industries with manufactures as a whole in Canada is not possible later than 1928. In that year the total value of manufactures in the Dominion was $3,769,850,364, while the production from the textile industries was $415,402,464. The largest industrial group in the Dominion in 1928 was manufactures of vegetable products, with a value of $756,995,585. Second position was held by wood and paper products at $682,549,865, while iron and steel came third at $609,632,999, and animal products fourth at $485,021,994.

HIS ANTIDOTE

THE OTHER DAY A MAN DIS-connected his radio and took it to the basement where he first savagely attacked it, with an axe and then divided the remains between the furnace and the garbage can, after which he returned to his den fairly glowing with satisfaction over the doing of a job worth while and thoroughly done.

His outburst at first blush might appear to be childish in the extreme, but on second thought it will have to be admitted that there were extenuating circumstances. He was tired and irritable and wanted something from his radio to soothe him, to make him forget the discord and worry of the day's skirmish in the battle of life. When he turned on the machine he was saluted with one of those hideous crooning atrocities which earned for one Rudy Vallee a cabbage on the stage and a punch on the nose on the street.

He tried another station and was assailed by an awful jazz orchestra. Another attempt brought him a recipe for some indigestible hash intoned by a lady in the final stages of adenoids. The last straw, and the one which broke the back of his composure, was an advertisement of a cigarette by an announcer in contrast with whose blood-curdling intonation the ululating war-whoop of a Blackfoot Indian would be a caressing lullaby. Then occurred the tragedy in the basement.

The owner of the radio could have obtained relief, of course, by simply disconnecting the radio, but he needed more than relief. He wanted the satisfaction which flows from physical force to be followed by complete forgetfulness of the cigarette, the recipe, the crooning song, the jazz orchestra and the people involved in them, and as he could not take it out of them directly, the radio had to be their proxy.

That man feels entirely happy and impotent over his performance, even though he will buy another radio. He thinks he has discovered an antidote for shattered nerves much more effective, albeit more expensive, than sawing and chopping wood for the kitchen stove; the ingredients of his antidote being a radio, a basement, an axe—and a vivid imagination.

SCHOOL OF HARD KNOCKS

THE SUPERIORITY OF MAN TO all other animals, according to scientists of the Brush Foundation, arises chiefly from the fact that he is helpless for a longer time than other living things are.

Physically man gets a very poor break. An ape is fully grown at five or six years of age. By that time it has all of the strength it will need, and it can fend for itself. Most animals become adults even sooner. But man has to go through some twenty years or more of youth before he is ready to step out in the world and take his knocks with everyone else.

Consequently man has had to make his intellect help him out. He has had to learn before he could settle down to live by habit. Being under this compulsion, he has left his brothers of the brute creation far behind him. The terrific handicap of long helplessness has been his salvation.

This, at any rate, is the verdict of the scientists; and it sets one's thoughts moving on an interesting path. It helps to confirm the old suspicion that a hardship can be a blessing in disguise. The school of hard knocks—in which man, in all generations, has been enrolled for the full course—can be extremely thorough.

Yet what a long step it is from beginnings to conclusions! Prehistoric man, hiding his naked weakness in an obscure cave to escape the wolf and tiger, and forcing his slow mind to invent stratagems by which he might out-wit them—there is a great gap between that and the modern scientist who traces his own brilliant mind straight back to that primal dilemma. Because the human animal was at the mercy of the brutes a thousand centuries ago, we to-day have the music of Beethoven and the literature of Shakespeare and the ingenious technical triumphs of a Marconi and a Wright. Those early handicaps were valuable possessions.

There is not a very great gap between realizing this and accepting the devout, old-fashioned belief that misfortunes were "sent" into this world from above, for a purpose. Whether we bridge that gap or not, it is at least evident that adversity is a better school than we generally like to admit. As a race, we began our progress by getting hit on the chin. The same medicine still seems to work in the same way.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

FOR HIS AMUSEMENT
The Hamilton Spectator

Mr. George Lansbury says he still enjoys watching Punch and Judy. Recalling the episodes in the House of Commons in which Lady Astor and the Laborite, Mr. Jack Jones, take part, Mr. Lansbury's recreation reminds us of a busman's holiday.

WHY NOT MUSSOLINI?
The Toronto Globe

A small and hitherto unknown comet floated into view over Italy the other day and was promptly photographed and christened as 1931 CA. Not an attractive name, and out of tune with the musical Italian language, but a warning to other small planets to keep away from the observatories.

CANADIAN NATIONAL FINANCES
The Ottawa Journal

A cheerful little earful is Dr. Manion's statement that the deficit of the Canadian National Railways will be $30,000,000, instead of $40,000,000 as has been persistently reported. Ten million dollars in these days is not a sum to be sniffed at. Nor need there be much of grumbling about a Canadian National $30,000,000 deficit. No railway that we know of escaped the consequences of last year's depression, and if the Canadian National could go through it with a smaller deficit (smaller by some $10,000,000) than it used to have about ten years ago, it did as well as the country could expect of it.

Across The Bay

The week is finished to the thunder of great events—heard but faintly before the scenes—both loud and clamorous behind them—and we start the last day.

By H. B. W.

WELL, DESPITE everything, despite such obstacles and complications as would have broken any hearts less seasoned, we have come through the sixth working week of the session and are ready to make the seventh a short and final one.

SATURDAY WAS such a day with us as outsiders can never understand or even dimly picture. All that outsiders could see was a listless House, listening gloomily to a few members who still had the heart to speak. They could not have the remotest idea of the currents and counter-currents that were surging behind the scenes, the lobbies and counter-lobbies, the decisions and reversals, the whispered conferences in odd corners, the compromises and private understandings, the collapse of well-laid plans and the substitution of new ones. Even in the corridors an outsider probably would not have guessed that much was under way, for in this game we do the most terrible and the most righteous things alike without any visible sign, out of the corner of our mouths as it were, and with a smile so that the fellow standing a little way down the hall shall not know what we are about.

ANYWAY, AS a result of these goings-on behind the scenes, many things transpired in the House which will affect the pocket and the palate of virtually every person in British Columbia. But before we came to that we spent the morning in such inconsequential discussion that only about half the House listened at all. The other half was outside preparing the events which were to transpire later. In this morning atmosphere, with nobody in the galleries and under discussion, both sides can grow quite human. Thus Mr. Pattullo could assure the government with a great glow of neighborliness that the government wouldn't know what struck it next time it faced the electors. And the Premier could reply, with marked friendliness to Mr. Pattullo, that there had been four little next times within the last year at North Vancouver, Fort George, North Okanagan and The Islands, but by-elections, of course, don't mean much.

MR. PATTULLO was even cheerful as he announced that the government was in a financial morass, just as he had always said it would be. Even the spectacle of his friends the government in this embarrassing predicament failed to shake the cheerfulness of Mr. Pattullo and the remarkable optimism of the government.

MEANWHILE in the corridors outside there came portents of impending events which shook us to our foundations. It was said on all sides that the amendments to the Vancouver milk bill and the Okanagan central selling bill, the major business of this session, were dying of technical disability, that fatal disease which has killed so many measures in this climate. More conferences, more desperate preparations to keep them alive ensued. But from the Speaker's chamber, the operating room where many a promising bill has died on the table, came no word, but it was said, Mr. Speaker was doing some hard thinking.

THAT MR. SPEAKER had been doing some hard thinking was made clear in one blinding flash, when the afternoon session was just half over. Without the slightest preliminary, and as such things should be done according to the traditions of British parliaments, Mr. Speaker suddenly ruled that the Okanagan central selling scheme, the scheme on which so many have built their hopes and to which so many others object, was entirely out of order. It was so out of order, said Mr. Speaker, that he could hardly see what parts of it were in order.

THEREUPON MR. SPEAKER faced his first appeal to the House. The House could have upset his ruling, and administered him an official spanking and considered the fruit bill. But when it came to a pinch only the Liberals, Mines Minister McKenzie, Colonel Lister and Tom Uphill voted against the Speaker and in favor of the fruit bill. Twenty-nine Conservatives heaved it out into the void. This was one way of disposing of the scheme (and incidentally supporting the report of Sanford Evans), but it was not quite as satisfactory or kindly a way as voting on its merits.

THERE WILL be arguments about these things in many a British Columbia household this week, and it is as well that certain points should be clear. It should be clear, in the first place, though cynics instantly doubted it, Mr. Speaker's decisions were his own entirely, taken on his own initiative and known to the government in advance. But on the other hand, the government could have waived all those prerogatives which Mr. Speaker insisted on it having. By a gesture it could have said the two marketing bills were all right so far as it was concerned and then they could have been voted on according to their merits. The government thus takes full responsibility of upsetting all this legislation, on minor points of order.

FROM THIS follows a deduction which will be part of the vital stuff of the next election, namely, that the government has taken a definite stand against compulsory marketing of fruit and the opposition, if it didn't take a definite stand in favor of it, at least did not oppose it. But it is not as simple as that. The government, though it would not entertain amendments to the Milk Act, had previously voted for it, Mr. Speaker's decisions were his own entirely, taken on his own initiative and known to the government in advance. But on the other hand, the government could have waived all those prerogatives which Mr. Speaker insisted on it having. By a gesture it could have said the two marketing bills were all right so far as it was concerned and then they could have been voted on according to their merits. The government thus takes full responsibility of upsetting all this legislation, on minor points of order.

NOR IS the end of the session for that matter. Just as we were hoping that, having disposed of these matters, for the time being, we could wind up the session Tuesday morning, Mr. Pattullo took all the small remaining joy out of our lives by announcing that he couldn't see how we could finish until Easter at the earliest. Which evidently means that the opposition intends that we shall not finish until then and the opposition, at this stage of the game, decides these things. The Premier for his part assured Mr. Pattullo that no attempt was being made to rush the business of the country and that plenty of time would be allowed to discuss it, which was pleasant but not mathematically correct. Perhaps it will be reassuring to the country, for almost all the chief business of the session has yet to be discussed. We shall start our final week with enough business to keep any organization but a legislature busy for a month.

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES

MARCH 30, 1906
(From The Times Files)

Weather forecast—Victoria and vicinity: Easterly winds, unsettled and mild, with rain.

To-day the C.P.R. steamer Charmer was floated from the B.C. Marine Railway at Esquimalt, after a very extensive overhauling. The extent of the improvement and repairs were mentioned in The Times a few days ago; the cost of them will be in the neighborhood of $25,000.

As a result of the conference held last evening between a committee of the whole council and A. T. Goward, manager of the B.C. Electric Railway Company, it is probable that at the next meeting of the City Council a report will be submitted recommending that the street be widened by a properly equipped car. This phase of the question was discussed at the meeting last evening.

The annual meeting of the Provincial Teachers' Association will be held in Victoria on June next, and it is expected that the street be widened by a properly equipped car. This phase of the question was discussed at the meeting last evening.

A meeting of the Capital City Gun Club was held last evening at 45 Johnson Street, when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Dr. E. C. Hart; vice-president, S. Sea Jr.; secretary-treasurer, W. N. Lenefsky; captain, F. W. Stevenson.

REVERTED LOTS

To the Editor:—Replying to the letter by "Fair Play" in your paper of March 26, there are quite a few suggestions I would like to make. First, the assessed at $3,000,000 and "Fair Play" states if sold would bring in near half a million yearly. In the first place if these lots were assessed at their proper value would not total $1,000,000. I know one of our neighbors who owns a lot in the street in my neighborhood where the lots are assessed at $1,000 each, and I was offered one a few weeks back for $125. Now, at least half the city owned lots are not worth accepting at a gift, so for argument sake we will presume the city own 2,000 saleable lots, and these 2,000 at three proper market value may be worth practically half a million, at which value they would be assessed. Now, we will presume the city dispose of 2,000 lots of building homes upon them only, and each home would be worth $1,000. If we had children that would make 6,000 children to go to school, and as our schools are now full up, the property owners would have to build new schools, supply teachers, etc., which would probably run into $350,000 yearly. This figure is taken in comparison with the present cost of now running the schools and the number of scholars. Personally I think we are better off to leave the vacant lots absolutely vacant, excepting under these conditions.

To get rid of a great quantity of vacant lots I suggest that any person (with exceptions on very valuable business sites) should be given a clear title to a lot adjoining his or her own property free from all taxation for at least three years, on condition that improvements be done over that period based on half the present assessable value. For example, clearing and leveling or fencing and building, say a garage, and that the lot be kept in proper condition for the space of three years. If at the end of that period the owner wishes to give it up, the lot will certainly be in better condition and more saleable.

WALTER J. DANDRIDGE.
1612 Fell Street, March 27, 1931.

P.S.—This man says that $3,000,000 at forty mills would bring in $400,000. How do you figure that out? W. D.

STRAWBERRY PRICES

To the Editor:—The strawberry growers of Saanich are just about fed up with the reports that appear practically every year forecasting bumper strawberry crops. On page ten of The Daily Times a report from the markets states that the Island berry yield will be above normal and that new plantations of strawberries are in good shape. Never was any statement so far from the fact, and I can't help but think that statements like these are made in an effort to encourage low prices. Ruinous prices are already being circulated in the district. The manager of one association here told me personally he expected jam berries to be around four cents a pound, and I would like to say, Mr. Editor, that the Keating Co-operative Fruit Exchange are not selling any of their berries at this price and that we anticipate at least nine cents a pound.

The strawberry patches of Saanich are in the worst condition they have been for years. The plantations look more like pasture fields than anything else, this owing to the extremely mild winter. Some growers are ploughing between the rows in an effort to check the weeds, which have got the upper hand to such an extent that unless some fine weather soon appears the crops will be ruined. As for growth of last year's planting the average patch is not good, the plants making very poor growth last year. The two-year old plantations are in poor shape and a number of growers are seriously considering ploughing them out. The conditions from a crop standpoint are anything from good, and the growers have a considerable amount of hard work before them to clean up their patches, and should be aided in getting the best possible prices, instead of publishing statements that will be used to force the price of berries down.

WM. KESSEY,
Vice-president Keating Co-operative Fruit Exchange, March 30, 1931.

GOVERNMENT

To the Editor:—It is scandalous the way the government is carrying on the public's business. Not a thought is given to the welfare of the people of the province as a whole. All that the government seems capable of doing is to create new positions with exorbitant salaries for a few party-healers, while the lowly wage earner is taxed to the very limit so that these large salaries can be paid.

There never has been in the history of British Columbia a more iniquitous piece of legislation than the one proposed by the Conservative government, Finance Minister Jones. Taxing a man's wages, which is the only source of income from which he may obtain the necessities of life, and put a little by for old age, is autocracy in its most vicious form and is tolerated by a sane and intelligent people. Such legislation belongs to the dark ages and should have no place in this progressive age.

It is beyond all comprehension that a people can be so apathetic as to allow such wanton extravagance as practiced by the government in creating a $30,000 liquid board and giving $25,000 to the former chairman of the board for relinquishing his unexpired ten-year contract, and granting $4,500 extra traveling expenses for the new Agent-General. These are conditions which demand serious thought on the part of the public. If such unscrupulous work is carried on by the government for the next two years a very unhealthy condition will exist in this province.

Surely if there were any real understanding of the part governments play in the advancement of a country there would be more intelligent use made of the selection of candidates. Had the voters taken proper interest in public affairs at the last provincial election, had there been keen watching, and had the electors picked out the candidates instead of accepting machine nominees, the much deplored and derided condition existing in this province to-day could never have eventuated.

RUSSIA

To the Editor:—In advising me that The Economic Review of the Soviet Union is an official organ of the Soviet Government, Mr. Van der Vliet apparently does not credit the average individual with having sufficient intelligence to ascertain the source of the literature which he peruses. In my letter to The Times there was no suggestion that I did not know the official nature of the publication in question—quite the contrary.

I did point out, however, that various persons, while holding no brief for the Soviet, are apparently animated by a sense of justice and feel compelled to disclose what they personally have seen in Russia. If Mr. Van der Vliet writes to these people, whose names are given, possibly they will vouch for the truth of their statements, without going through any Soviet agency to do so.

If The Economic Review, which is published in the U.S.A. were to quote American business men, without their authority, legal proceedings would undoubtedly be instituted against the publishers.

It also follows that if the Amtorg claimed to have purchased goods from specified American firms without having done so, the business houses in question would contradict it. Even if Mr. Van der Vliet does believe that all men are liars, especially Russian men, his statement that "an official organ of the Soviet Government is the last place in the world where a true picture of the situation will be found," would appear to be influenced by prejudice against Soviet Russia.

Sweeping assertions of a disparaging nature, animated by such an emotion, are not usually considered, by fair-minded men, to be the most convincing form of debate.

RON STEWART,
Y.M.C.A., March 28.

RED HERRING SERVED IN MILK

To the Editor:—No fatter red herring was ever drawn across the trail of party politics than the "red herring" exhibited by the Conservative government on the question of the Vancouver Milk Bill. Your morning contemporary, admittedly a Conservative organ, has refused to publish a letter of defence of the people's rights. That the editorial tongue was protruding far into the editorial cheek, is proved by the fact that the letter of defence of the people's rights, which I wrote, but in which I ventured to apportion the blame on the shoulder to which it rightly belonged. My contention is therefore that the platitudes uttered by The Colonist and various members of the Conservative party are merely a smoke screen with which to hide the real issue. If in reading Mr. Speaker Davis's portentous ruling on this controversial measure you substitute the words "Conservative party" for the

DRIVES CAR OFF CLIFF TO DEATH

Suicide of Ex-show Girl Shocks Riviera; 200-Foot Fall

Nice, France, March 30.—Peggy Davis, thirty-seven, former Broadway show-girl, gave the Riviera a new tragedy Saturday night when she drove her automobile over a steep cliff in the vicinity of the Vanderbilt estate and dropped 200 feet to her death.

The former actress was the wife of an Australian, David Townsend, who is well known in Wall Street circles. She drove the car to her hotel near the cliff, where she scribbled a note as she drank two brandies. Leaving the note with the proprietor of the hotel, she jumped into the automobile and plunged over the edge of the cliff.

The note, addressed to her husband, asked his pardon for her act, and beseeched him to take good care of her five-year-old daughter. Police have been unable to find a motive for her suicide, as apparently her marital life had been happy.

She had planned to go to the opera at night with friends, who said they had noticed nothing unusual about her actions recently.

The suicide was the second tragedy involving American women here in the last few weeks. Mrs. Charlotte Nixon-Nirdlinger, another American beauty, is awaiting trial for fatally shooting her husband, a Philadelphia theatre owner. She is the mother of two children.

HUSBAND PROSTRATE

Her husband, identifying the body as that of his wife, was prostrated. He could think of no reason, he said, why she should have ended her life, other than she had suffered a sudden neurasthenic attack, such as had bothered her intermittently.

"She had no domestic or financial worries," he said at their handsome villa, Les Embruns, at Jean Cap Ferrat, near here.

Police, investigating the suicide, identified her as the former Mary Margaret Laird of Birmingham, Ala., born in 1899. She and Townsend were married six years and so far as known the child, a girl of five years, is the offspring of that union. She was known to the New York stage as Peggy Davis.

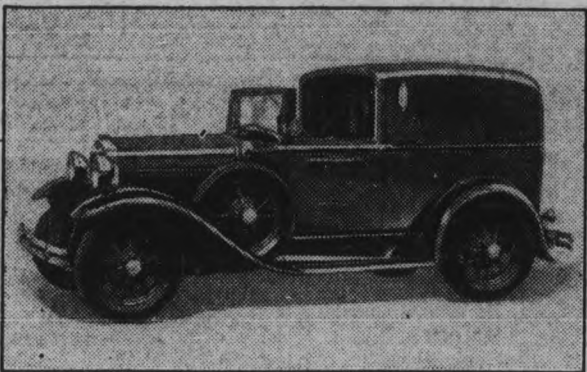

The tragedy, occurring within a fortnight of the shooting of Fred G. Nixon-Nirdlinger by his wife, former Atlantic City beauty contest runner-up, shocked and startled the Riviera, where both were popular. Mrs. Nixon-Nirdlinger is still in jail, awaiting trial on homicide charges.

Mrs. Townsend left her family at the villa Saturday morning and drove to Nice and from there, to Monte Carlo alone. Friends who saw her thought she was most happy and cheerful and she is said to have commented that she wished to get back to attend an opera party.

SEEN BY SERVANT

At 10 p.m. she halted her car before a golf hotel at Eze and demanded double brandies. The proprietor, who

Ford Town Car Delivery

EASILY the most striking and distinctive type in its entire line of commercial vehicles is the new town delivery car just announced by the Ford Company of Canada, Limited.

Custom-built, this unusually handsome body mounted on the Model A chassis is especially designed for exclusive shops whose delivery equipment must reflect the dignity and conservatism which distinguishes the institution itself.

Among the rich appointments and features of the town delivery car are the new slanting windshield, the smart ornamental lights on either side of the body, cowl lamps, fender wells, and open driver's compartment with a canopy top for inclement weather, and extension mirror.

The body is fitted with veneer panels in natural wood finish over a strong wooden frame and is conveniently accessible from the driver's compartment through a full length sliding door. The interior is 45 inches long, 45 inches wide and 42 inches high.

knew her well, remonstrated with her. She wrote a note on the back of a menu card and then started her car. A servant from a nearby chateau saw the car zig-zag down the road slowly and then suddenly commence full speed toward a breach in the wall. It fell through the breach into a ravine, more than 200 feet deep.

The servant thereupon raced to the hotel, notifying the landlord of the accident. A small crowd gathered but the descent into the ravine was dangerous in daytime—impossible at night, and since telephone service was cut off it was impossible to notify the police or firemen.

Police arrived Sunday morning and mountain climbers went down into the ravine, signalling back that the driver of the car was dead. Eventually police descended and after hours of work brought up the body by means of a rope and placed it in Eze Chapel. The note on the menu card gave the husband's address and police notified him. He had been up all night waiting for her to return.

KNOWN IN NEW YORK

New York, March 30.—Florenz Ziegfeld said to-day that there had been a dozen Peggy Davises on Broadway, many of them in his "Follies" and that he did not know if the Nice suicide was the Peggy Davis of Birmingham, Ala., who was first married in 1918 at the age of twelve or fourteen to Lieutenant-Colonel Joseph Alexander Davies of the Ordinance Department, who afterward was proved to have been married before and not divorced.

That marriage was annulled and Peggy Davis in 1921 married Joseph Donald Grafton, she was said then to be fifteen or seventeen years old and he represented himself as a Pittsburgh millionaire. The next year he was indicted for bigamy and it was discovered that a month before he married the Davis girl he had taken another wife. The marriage with Miss Davis was promptly annulled.

Thereafter Miss Davis worked as cabaret entertainer and show girl in New York and Baltimore and in 1923 was engaged to Napoleon A. Wrothington, Baltimore stock broker, but the marriage was opposed by her mother, Mrs. Capitola Laird.

SCHOOLS ACT CALLED CLUB

Many of Education Minister's Policies Criticized in House

Brief but pointed objection to the centralizing of authority over the educational system of the province was voiced by T. D. Pattullo, opposition leader, in the Legislature Saturday during committee stage on the Public Schools Act amendments.

The clause authorizing the government to withhold its grants for teachers' salaries from boards which do not use authorized text books Mr. Pattullo described as a club. "It is the club of dollars and cents," he declared.

"That is the most effective club," said Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe. "It is the club that will drive this government from power," replied Mr. Pattullo.

The opposition leader also elicited that the government can grade the cities and municipalities of the province at its discretion without consulting the municipal councils and school boards as to the percentage of teachers' salaries which the government will pay.

Mr. Pattullo charged that in instituting the 1 per cent tax the government had taken a proposal instituted by the municipalities for school purposes. But instead of the new tax going to the schools, only one-fifth of the government's estimated revenue would go to the municipalities and if the tax, as he suspected, yielded a revenue of $4,000,000 or $5,000,000 the fixed grant to municipalities of $500,000 would remain unaltered.

Section 9 of the act was amended. Mr. Hinchliffe said, so the government could make a grant for technical class equipment beyond the grant for the initial equipment. As the act now stood, he said, the government was unable to help in purchase of new equipment. This did not apply to replacements.

REBATE CANCELLED

The rebate of school tax on agricultural lands had been cancelled, Mr. Hinchliffe said, as this would be taken care of in the bigger scheme under which $500,000 more was available for school purposes. He agreed with Mr. Hanna this would not be an extra $500,000 expenditure as $400,000 previously given in rebate would not be given.

Salaries paid to teachers at December last would be accepted as the standard on which the government would base its percentage of contributions to teachers' salaries for the present fiscal year, Mr. Hinchliffe said. It was necessary to have a recognized salary, the minister claimed, and as it was impossible to have an authorized schedule at the present time on which to base the grants, the salaries at December would be taken for this purpose.

Another clause giving discretion to school boards to charge fees to students over fifteen years of age was to make the right uniform, Mr. Hinchliffe said.

A section saying fees must be paid by a student attending school in another district unless parents paid taxes to the extent of $50, was explained by the minister. It was to prevent a parent purchasing a cheap lot simply for the purpose of qualifying as a property owner in the district to avoid paying school fees.

Another clause defining boarding houses was to prevent students from one district avoiding payment of fees when they attended school in another district.

Mr. Pattullo saw danger of setting up further exclusive bus franchises in a section relating to transportation contracts conveying pupils to and from schools for a period of five years.

Another section provides for disciplining a teacher who fails to use other text books than those authorized.

NASH

The finest quality Nash has ever built

FOR fourteen years, Nash has been consistently raising its quality standard and its standard of value. In no other cars, however, has Nash been enabled to advance both quality and value as far and as high as in its four series for 1931. These cars met with instant public acceptance. That original approval has widened and deepened as the four Nash Sixes and the eighteen Nash Eights became more and more commonly spoken of as the greatest values in their fields. In one or all of these models you will note increased horsepower, longer wheelbase, insulated bodies, centralized automatic chassis lubrication, extra quality upholstery, and many other features—at the lowest prices ever placed on cars of such pronounced quality. ADVERTISE IN THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES

DAUGHTER OF HON. J. W. JONES PRETTY BRIDE

Miss Norah Vivian Jones Wedded to Duncan C. MacLennan in Vancouver

Of much interest in political and social circles throughout the province was the marriage solemnized at Ryerson United Church, Vancouver, on Friday evening of Norah Vivian, second daughter of Hon. J. W. Jones, Minister of Finance for British Columbia, and Mrs. Jones of Victoria, to Duncan Campbell MacLennan of Vancouver, son of Mr. and Mrs. William MacLennan of Fort, Morayshire, Scotland. Rev. E. D. Braden officiated. A large congregation filled the church, which was beautifully decorated with spring blossoms by girl friends of the bride.

BRIDE IN YELLOW
Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in her gown of daffodil yellow chiffon, made in floor length on becoming Princess lines, with a long flounce falling from the knees and with jacket in matching tone. With this was worn a large picture hat of straw in the same golden shade, tiny orange flowers nestling beneath the brim, while her shoes were of a darker tone of orange. She carried a sheaf of aspies, azaleas, plum blossom and heather.

Miss Olive Kerr, the only bridesmaid, wore a charming ensemble of mauve chiffon, with hat and shoes in a slightly deeper tone, and her bouquet was a sheaf of yellow snapdragons and pink tulips. The bridegroom's brother, Mr. Jock MacLennan, acted as best man and the ushers were Mr. C. A. Searles-Jones, brother of the bride, and Mr. Millard Loughhead.

During the signing of the register by the bride party, Mrs. W. H. Thomson sang "Heaven's Gift."

BIG RECEPTION
After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Searles-Jones at 3539 West Thirty-Eighth Street, where an attractive color scheme of yellow and mauve was carried out through the reception rooms, while pink flowers and tapers in silver sconces prevailed in the decorative arrangement of the dining-room.

Mrs. J. W. Jones, the bride's mother, assisted Mrs. Searles-Jones in receiving the guests, wearing a French model gown of floral nylon with black lace straw hat trimmed with small French flowers caught beneath the brim. Friends of the bride assisted in serving.

MOTOR HONEYMOON
Mr. and Mrs. MacLennan left by motor to spend their honeymoon in Oregon and California. For her traveling costume the bride donned a smart, two-piece frock of plaid pussy-willow silk, over which was worn a jacket of beige lapin. Her hat was a small brown and white straw model.

The bride was a graduate of the University of British Columbia, also of the Margaret Eaton School of Physical Education, and has been on the faculty of the Vancouver Normal School.

Mr. and Mrs. MacLennan will make their home in Vancouver.

Missionary Is Bridegroom At Oaklands Hall

Masses of spring flowers were used in decoration of the Oaklands Hall on Saturday evening, when about 300 guests witnessed the marriage of Ruth, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Dicker, 2571 Lincoln Road, and Mr. John William Russell Jenner, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Jenner, 2205 Belmont Avenue. The bridegroom has been engaged in missionary work in the West Indies for several years.

Mr. Charles Bowen of Vancouver officiated, assisted by Mr. E. Smart of Victoria, and the wedding music was played by Mr. Ruben Duckworth. The bride entered the hall with her father, wearing a simple princess wedding gown of ivory satin with long full skirt and high sleeves. Her veil of embroidered tulle fell from a coronet of orange blossoms to form a train. She wore a necklace of crystals and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and white lilies.

Miss Joyce Maynard was the only bridesmaid, in a gown of pale green georgette in princess style and hat to match. She carried an arm bouquet of Enchantress carnations and maiden-hair fern. The two dainty flower girls were Esther Dicker, sister of the bride, and Iona Jenner, sister of the groom. Both were dressed alike in frilly frocks of apricot crepe de Chine with straw hats to match, and carried golden baskets filled with spring flowers. Mr. Alfred Jenner supported his brother, and the ushers were Messrs. Arthur Ragsdale, Leslie Barnes and George Heaton.

During the service Miss Ora Jealous and Miss Kathleen Cuff sang as a duet, "O Perfect Love."

A reception followed the service, where the many guests were welcomed by Mrs. Dicker in a frock of blue crepe de Chine, with collar and cuffs of ecru lace adorned with ribbons, and a drooping straw hat with a cluster of blue flowers on one side, and by Mrs. Jenner Sr., who wore a smart creation of dark blue georgette and had on a suit.

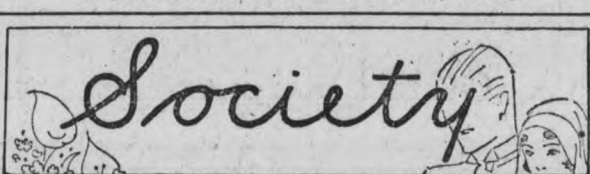

Mr. and Mrs. Jenner left later for a honeymoon trip to Qualicum, the bride traveling in a sports suit of green wool, and a tweed coat and brown straw hat. They will leave in May for a tour through the United States, en route for the West Indies. Mr. and Mrs. Jenner were the recipients of many beautiful gifts.

Girls' Council Met—The regular monthly meeting of the Victorian Girls' Council was held on Saturday at First Baptist Church. After a short period of games, the girls assembled for dinner at 6 o'clock and at 7 o'clock retired to the ladies' room for the meeting. Dividing into three groups, the girls took as a subject for discussion "Easter," after which an Easter vesper service instead of the customary worship period, concluded the meeting at 8:30 o'clock.

PRINCIPALS IN WEDDING

Chief Guide Is Delighted With Birthday Cake

In response to a cabled message of greeting sent on their joint birthdays to the Chief Scout and Chief Guide, Lord and Lady Baden-Powell, Mrs. Alan Morkill, Provincial Commissioner of Girl Guides, has received the following gracious acknowledgment from the Chief Guide, despatched from Walsley, New Zealand:

"Your cable arrived on the day, and I can't tell you how much the Chief and I appreciated getting it. It was a ripping one to think of us like that, and we love to feel we were in so many people's minds! We spent the day at the lovely New Zealand Guides "Festale," an adorable little chalet about twenty miles from Auckland, and there were 140 Guides there who gave us a huge welcome. Guiding is simply splendid here, on a tremendously high standard and quite first-rate."

"We are having a glorious time and are just loving the whole tour. There is lots of work to be done so I won't write a longer note now. But thank you just ever so much for sending that dear kind message from your Guides. It was delightful getting it and I do hope that all your work is going on splendidly."

St. Andrew's Concert—St. Andrew's Young People's Society will hold a musical recital in the lecture room of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church this evening at 8 o'clock. The artists taking part are the Misses D. Bishop, M. Phillips, O. Heal and Reginald Cooper. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance of members and friends.

THIS DOCTOR NOT AFRAID OF THE FLU

Dr. Robt. G. Jackson says positively colds, flu, pneumonia will not attack him. He says: "For everyone protection is only a matter of properly developing their natural defences," as he directs in his book "How to Be Always Well." Formerly, he had colds winter and summer, but he had his last cold in 1913 and declares he will never have another. He escapes by keeping his blood alkaline through eating alkaline-forming foods, proper care of the skin, proper breathing, exercising, clothing, etc., but the chief thing is alkaline food. His chief protective food is alkaline-forming Roman Meal (the only alkaline-forming food made from grains), helped out by other alkaline foods listed in "How to Be Always Well." Mr. and Mrs. J. S. McGary of 780 Hill Street, who have resided in Victoria for forty-eight years, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary on Friday at a reception held at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. D. V. McGary, 646 Hillside Avenue, when many old friends tendered their congratulations to the venerable couple. A fancy reunion dinner was held in the evening when Mr. and Mrs. McGary were presented with a beautiful gold basket filled with gold tulips, daffodils and roses from their children. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Pettigell, Mrs. C. A. Whitlock and Capt. and Mrs. H. A. Ormiston of Vancouver, Mr. O. R. McGary of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. D. V. McGary, and the following grandchildren: Marjorie, Dolores and Jewel Pettigell, Ben Orton and Herbert Ormiston, Robert and daughter, Whitlock, and Pearl and James McGary. Of their family of six children, five were in attendance at the anniversary celebration, the sixth, Sergeant William Paul McGary, of the 16th Canadian Scottish Battalion, having been killed in action on the Somme in 1916.

A well-attended meeting of the Victoria C.G.I.T. Leaders' Council was held in the Y.W.C.A. on Friday evening with Mrs. H. Nixon presiding. Miss Marion Royce, National Girls' Work Board secretary, was introduced to the leaders by Miss Anne Fountain, provincial secretary. Miss Royce conducted a most interesting and successful discussion on the activities carried on by different groups.

During the afternoon Miss Royce met the executive of the Girls' Council and the presidents of all the city groups and at the supper hour with a number of graduate Canadian Girls in Training. After the leaders' meeting Miss Royce and Miss Fountain, accompanied by the Victoria representatives, Mrs. W. P. Freeman, Miss Jean Menzies and Miss Dorothy Urquhart, left on the Vancouver boat to attend the annual boys' and girls' leaders' retreat held this week-end at Columbia College, New Westminster.

FOUNDER'S DAY IS CELEBRATED

Local Section of Alpine Club of Canada Holds Annual Dinner

Founder's Day was celebrated Saturday night by the Vancouver Island section of the Alpine Club of Canada with its annual dinner at the Empress Hotel. It marked the twenty-fifth anniversary of the club's inception.

As honorary president of the parent body, as well as head of the local section, A. O. Wheeler, the founder of the organization, conveyed greetings and congratulations to the gathering, pointing out there was a total of eleven branches now meeting on founder's day.

"We have good cause," he said, "to congratulate ourselves upon the solid position we have attained, and to know that our foundations are built upon the Rocky Mountains of Canada, and so have been able to withstand all passing storms."

Both Mr. Wheeler and Mrs. H. H. Parker, who founded the club in 1906, are hale and hearty to-day after watching the group growing in the intervening time.

"When the club began, many mountains still had to have their 'first ascents,' and the science of climbing was still to be learned. To-day there are few outstanding peaks unclimbed and we must go farther afield to find new camping places," he said.

The annual camp of the Alpine Club this year will be held at the head of Prospector's Valley, not far from Moraine Lake, and an expedition from Jasper to the club's memorial hut at the head of Penstock Creek during August is planned.

TO OPEN NEW HUT
The Island group will open its new hut at Lake of the Seven Hills, Sooke, about the end of next month, it was announced by C. L. Harrison, outgoing convenor, who received from W. H. Douglas on behalf of the club, an Alpine Club flag to fly over the top of it.

The flag is about ten feet long and one-half feet deep, deep in bands of green, grey and white, the club colors. The hut, Mr. Harrison said, will have a lounge twenty feet by thirty feet, a wide front veranda, and a kitchen and store room.

The club, he said, was singularly fortunate to have Mr. Wheeler, the founder, as its president, and the local section should grow to be one of the finest in the Dominion. He also paid tribute to Mr. Douglas when moving a vote of thanks for the flag.

AIMS OF ORGANIZATION
The toast to the Alpine Club, proposed by Mr. Wheeler, was responded to by Gordon Cameron, who cited the club's part in bringing Canadians a realization of their mountain heritage and developing a spirit of conquest and love of exploration and exercise of freedom with discipline.

Reference was made to the loss suffered by the club in the deaths of Senator Boschee, John A. Kirk, M. L. A. Baron Gabel, Brigadier-General H. R. Hale, Dr. Cora Best and Prof. Charles Fay who had been members.

The entertainment included songs by Mrs. R. D. McCaw, recitations by Miss Arabella Haynes and an amusing skit on the club's personalities by Mr. McCaw. Community singing was led by Mr. McCaw and a moving picture show given by K. M. Chadwick, club secretary.

London, March 30.—Elizabeth Middleton Oord Marshall, C.B.E., distinguished worker for education in the Empire, died yesterday, she was secretary of the League of the Empire.

Mrs. Oord Marshall established the Imperial Union of Teachers in 1913, and was honorary secretary to the interchange teachers' scheme. She represented the League of Empire in Canada for six months in 1910.

PIANO RECITAL IS SUCCESSFUL
A very successful recital was given by the pupils of Mrs. Marion MacGovern on Friday evening in Quadra Street School, under the auspices of the Quadra P.T.A. The programme consisted of pianoforte solos and duets, assisted by Roy Goldfinch, who contributed several recitations in a very able manner. The piano class students showed much progress in their performance, which created a favorable impression for this method of tuition. The programme concluded with a tap dance by Hilda Jacques, pupil of Miss Clough. Those taking part were: Elsie and Margaret George, June Hodgkinson, Alice Bleathman, Alice Quayle, Gwen Peacock, Strang Gurney, Vernon Wesley, Joyce Harvey, Clifford and Thelma Rolfe, Gordon Ewing, Joan Lucas, Yvonne Lowden, Phyllis Mills, Hilda Jacques, Flora Campbell, Betty Muncey, Christine Schmelz, Doreen Mills, Mildred Morris, Beth Taylor, Elvira Gray, Mrs. Adams and Kathleen Brown.

YOUR BABY and MINE

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer any questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

MOTHERS CHIEFLY INTERESTED IN PERSONAL PROBLEMS

Undoubtedly there are few problems related to the care and feeding of normal children which have not been covered time and again in this department. But it is undoubtedly true that until a problem is of personal interest to the reader, its solution does not register with her. When Mrs. E. K. S. writes, "I have been reading your column for a long time but do not recall ever having seen any articles dealing with my problems," what she really means is that until these problems became hers to solve she was not sufficiently interested in the answers to remember them.

Mrs. E. K. S. asks the following questions: How many months should the baby's back be rubbed with oil? ARE COOL DRINKS PERMISSIBLE? "At what age is it safe to give cold drinks? I always warm his drinking water and also the water I put with fruit juice."

"When can sugar in the formula be stopped?" "How can a baby be taught or encouraged to creep?" "He positively will not accept sliced vegetables. What shall I do?"

"Our baby will be nine months old April 1st. He is too old to have colic?" "Here is his programme: Seven a.m. bottle; 10 a.m. orange juice; 12 noon, formula; 3 p.m. bottle; 5.30, junket, and 9 p.m. bottle."

Rubbing baby's back with oil is a nice, but not compulsory habit. It may be stopped at any time.

Commander and Mrs. C. D. Donald, Dr. and Mrs. G. Hansen, Dr. and Mrs. A. Nash, Mrs. G. R. Hibbert, Lieutenant and Mrs. E. P. Tisdall, Misses Inez Ker, P. Heming, H. Wilson, A. Trotman, D. NEW DUTY SOON ON IMPORTED USED AUTOS
Ottawa, March 30.—A special item will be inserted in the tariff in the coming budget to deal with importation of used motor cars into Canada, according to the forecasts of the automobile dealers. They say the situation is a difficult one to handle. More than 1,000,000 cars in Canada today will eventually be turned in as used cars, they point out, and therefore if the market is to be kept from a deluge of used cars from the United States, they contend some special provision will have to be made.

At present, customs officers at the port of entry have authority to appraise the values of used cars and to collect duty on that basis, but it has not proved feasible to impose a dumping duty owing to the difficulty of ascertaining the purchase price.

Verdict On Death Of Train Traveler
Swift Current, Sask., March 30.—That the death of Manning P. Fisher of Cleveland, Ohio, in a train wreck near here last Wednesday evening was due to a defective heart and hardening of the arteries was the verdict returned Saturday evening by the coroner's jury which investigated the man's death.

The evidence of twelve witnesses was heard during the inquest, which was opened Thursday evening. The investigation was conducted by Dr. A. E. Kelly, coroner.

According to the evidence of Dr. J. H. Sharp, who performed the autopsy, death was due to excitement, which caused a rush of blood to the heart. Mr. Manning, he said, died about fifteen or twenty minutes after the car had left the rails.

AGED WOMAN DOCTOR IS DEAD
Detroit, Mich., March 30.—Dr. Anna Medora Brockway Gray, eightty-three, a physician, historian, writer of children's verse and daughter of the first white settler west of Salt Lake, died in the Michigan copper country, died yesterday evening at her home in Plymouth.

MAORI MADE YALE LECTURER

Auckland, N.Z., March 30.—Maori tribesmen throughout New Zealand are celebrating the appointment of their kinsman, Dr. Peter Henry Buck, whose Maori name is Te Rangihirua, as lecturer on anthropology for post-graduate students at Yale University.

The appointment is regarded not only as a further distinction for an already distinguished member of the Maori race, but as an honor for New Zealand.

His mother—Morangi-hi-tua—was a Maori princess, known for her beauty and personality.

Dr. Buck was educated at the Aute Maori College, and from 1905 to 1914 was a member of the New Zealand Parliament. For a period he was Minister of State, representing the Maori.

He was a member of the first Maori contingent who went to the war and served in Egypt, Gallipoli, France and Belgium, earning the distinguished service order and other honors. At the latter end of the war he was in charge of a military hospital in England.

His scientific and personal qualities were again recognized upon his return to New Zealand after the armistice. He became director of Maori hygiene and member of the board of Maori ethnological research. He has written many scientific papers.

In 1927 he joined the Bishop Museum at Honolulu, where he continued his Polynesian researches. He relinquished the Honolulu position to accept the post at Yale.

Chicago Hawks Gain Two-goal Lead Over New York Rangers

THE SPORTS MIRROR

Fighters Must Quit Demanding High Purse to Revive Game

Should Perform More Often, Like Wrestlers, to Make Money

New High Standards May Hurt Notre Dame's Famous Football Squads

Joe Cronin Makes One of Finest Comebacks in Major Baseball

IN VIEW of the small crowds reported in attendance at the majority of boxing matches in both Canada and the United States these days, it looks like the fighters will have to quit demanding high purses and fight oftener to get the same income. That's what wrestlers do. They know they are not worth ridiculous and fancy sums for a single performance, but make lots of money taking many bouts at moderate purses. If boxers don't come down to earth, there won't be any promoters.

Sob stories are coming by the minute from promoters. Pa Strubbing, for instance, lost some $6,000, and Frank Bruen is supposed to have dropped $30,000 paying off Carners and Maloney following their recent bout at Miami. When Paulino knocked out Les Kennedy in Los Angeles he got around $11,500, Kennedy about $5,400, and the referee, Jack Dempsey, $3,000, and at that the referee probably drew as many people as either of the main bout performers.

As that show earned only a meagre profit, it demonstrates a new angle on the boxing business. Dempsey may return to promoting in New York, and if he can appear as referee in his own shows, through some special permission of the commission, he may draw enough extra people to make a profit. That will be unique in boxing, a promoter drawing his own crowds.

A new standard of entrance qualification is reported at the University of Notre Dame. Those who enter its portals seeking some of the rays of the football glory that institution sheds each year, must now possess more than a pair of fleet feet and a collection of powerful biceps. To enter, candidates must have stood among the first two-thirds of their classes at high school. This bars out for all time many classes. Having been admitted, no student can play on the team unless he maintains an average of 77 per cent in his studies.

United States youths are eager to tread the campus hallowed in hero-worshipping eyes by the feet of the Four Horsemen, George, Gipp, Carideo and Savoldi and other super stars. Whether the high standard demanded by the faculty will lessen the efficiency of the team is problematical. Prolonged and intensive training leaves little time for study. However, those who survive should have a mental edge on their opponents.

A few years ago he sat on the bench for the Pittsburgh Pirates and saw a world baseball game being played and a great chance pass. He was dying to play. As a reward for his eagerness, Barney Dreyfuss sold him to Kansas City in April, just three years ago. If he hadn't been a fighter, Joe Cronin, key man of the Washington Senators' pennant effort this year, might still be in Kansas City, or perhaps in Johnstown, Pa., or New Haven. Because he is a batter he has found his way back to the big leagues. You don't have to hear him talk five minutes to learn that.

Last year he was the best-hitting shortstop in the majors for the year of 1930, and without a doubt the most valuable player.

When he goes to the ball field, Joe sheds his quiet demeanor and becomes the hardest worker on the field. There is an inspiring energy and ambition in his every feature, he handles himself with a poise that must be catching to his mates. He keeps up a fire of reassuring chatter that raises the resistance of the team.

Determination of the Cronin brand is vital—and it will mean great things to Washington in this year's campaign.

All students must complete the four-year course of training and study at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis are required to pass written tests in boxing, which is a regular part of the curriculum.

Although he does everything else right-handed, Augie Kleckhefer, eight times winner of the world's three-cushion billiard title, wields his cue left-handed.

The seven Smith brothers—Alfred, Jack, Dan, Harry, Tommy, Billy and George—residents of Ottawa, Canada, offer to beat any family combination in the world at ice hockey.

Pair of Counters By Gottselig and Romnes Win 2 to 0

Black Hawks Appear Slated to Reach Stanley Cup Final Following Shutout Victory Yesterday Evening at Chicago; Teams Meet at New York in Second Game of Series To-night; Montreal Canadiens Blaze Their Way to 4 to 3 Victory Over Boston in Overtime; Frenchmen Hold 2 to 1 Game Lead Over Bruins and Win To-night Will Put Them in Finals.

Toronto, Ont., March 30.—A sparkling 4 to 3 overtime win for Montreal Canadiens over Boston in the third game of the National Hockey League championship series at the week-end, coupled with a 2 to 0 shutout for Chicago Black Hawks over New York Rangers strengthens the possibility that the habitants and Chicagoans may meet in the final for the Stanley Cup for the first time in history. George Mantha and Wildor Larochelle, relief players, proved the heroes of the night for some 13,000 excited habitants fans. The pair combined for the winning goal five minutes and ten seconds after the extra session had started.

The victory gave the present Stanley Cup holders two wins against one defeat and should they win the fourth clash to-night they will be crowned league champions. If Boston wins, the series will be deadlocked and a fifth game will be played Wednesday.

Saturday Canadiens unleashed a whirlwind attack during the first two periods which saw them gain a 3 to 1 lead. Sylvio Mantha opened the scoring less than three minutes after the start but the Bostonians equalized the count when "Dit" Clapper converted "Dutch" Galt's pass into a tally. Gus Rivers, famous pinch hitter from Winnipeg, sent the Canucks to the fore early in the middle frame and George Mantha increased the lead some fifteen minutes later. But the Bruins rallied brilliantly and goals by Conney Weiland and George Barry saw the count knotted for the second time.

HAWKS DOMINATE PLAY
The Black Hawks completely dominated the situation at Chicago. Checking as thoroughly as against the Maple Leafs of Toronto whom they downed in the first round of the Stanley Cup play-offs, the Windy City hockeyists subdued the famous front line of Frankie Boucher, Bill and Bun Cook, by scoring a goal in the first and again in the third frame. The Hawks appeared to be in a favorable position to advance into the finals. The victory was the first since the team's last championship win in 1917. The Hawks' lead was 2 to 0 at the end of the first period, and it was 3 to 0 at the end of the second. # Tough Breaks Rob Scots of Undisputed Rugby Honors

Lose Man But Hold Edge Over Ex-Kings; Game Ends In Draw

Senior City Champions Hold Crack Vancouver Rugger to Three-all Tie in Battle for Rounsfell Cup; Ted May Taken From Field With Broken Leg Ten Minutes After Start; Campbell Forbes Kicks Penalty Goal to Offset Lawson's Lone Try; Bruce Forbes and Jack Horne Come Within Ace of Scoring.

Tough breaks, starting ten minutes after the opening of the game, when Teddy May was taken from the field with a broken leg, robbed the Canadian Scottish, senior city rugby champions, of undisputed possession of the Rounsfell Cup, emblematic of the provincial title, in their game against Ex-King George, Vancouver champions, at the Royal Athletic Park on Saturday. The final score read 3-3. Vancouver scored early in the second half when Lawson went over on a dribble. Ten minutes later, Campbell Forbes equalized with a penalty kick from in front of the Mainlanders' posts.

Unless the Victoria Rugby Union, at a special meeting this evening, decides to take up the mainlanders' challenge for a deciding game, each team will hold the prized trophy for six months.

After allowing the Terminal City boys a slight edge in the first half, the Scots came back strong in the second period to completely dominate play. Twice Lady Luck stopped Victoria from gaining tries, once when Bruce Forbes went over in the scrum but was forced six inches back before he could get the ball down and again near the end of the match when Jack Horne was brought down less than a foot from the line.

LOCALS DOMINATE SECOND HALF
Playing on a field which made an accurate backfield game impossible, the smashing, follow-up tactics of the local side gave them a tremendous edge in the second half. Ex-Kings' highly touted three-quarter line failed to get in a single effective play. Although the rain-soaked ground prevented good back work, the fixture was surprisingly open.

On the day's play, Victoria deserved a victory. Clearing the Scots opening rush, Humphries, Ex-Kings' fullback, sent play to centre with a smart kick. Alvaoff followed down and secured, carrying the ball to the Highlands' twenty-five yard line, cleared, but the same man ran play back.

MAJ BREAKS LEG
John Rowland broke away on a sensational dribble, but was hauled down before he could make his play count. Niblo kicked to centre. Alvaoff secured and ran to the local's fifteen yard line where he went down under Forbes.

From centre, Niblo, Rowan, McLean and Alvaoff combined on the prettiest piece of backfield work the Vancouver team showed. But the movement was stopped before it became dangerous. Lawson broke through but was brought down by Bryden on the Victoria twenty-five.

In the following play, Ted May went down in a rough and tumble and was taken from the field with an injured leg.

Taking advantage of their break, Vancouver forced to the Mainlanders' line and hammered away on a determined attack.

Jack Sharkey Is Offered $50,000 to Meet Griffiths
Chicago, Ill., March 30.—Jack Sharkey, Illinois' heavyweight contender, Saturday was offered $50,000 for a ten-round bout with Tuffy Griffiths of Sioux City, Iowa, in the Chicago Stadium sometime in May. While he did not refuse the bid, Sharkey said he considered the Chicago Stadium sometime in fight worth $75,000.

Stanley Cup Finals Set
Arrangements Made for Deciding Series in Battle for Hockey Supremacy
Montreal, Que., March 30.—Final arrangements for the Stanley Cup finals between the winner of the Boston-Canadiens series and the winner of the Ranger-Chicago series were announced here yesterday evening. The series which last year was the best of three games was changed this season by the National Hockey League governors and is now the best three out of five.

Should the Boston-Canadiens series end to-night with a Canadiens win, and should Rangers win over Black Hawks to-night, the first Stanley Cup games will take place on Thursday and Friday nights at New York Madison Square Garden and the remainder here. Should Boston win to-night and the series be prolonged until Wednesday, then either Boston or Canadiens will meet Rangers, should they win, on Friday night at New York and the remaining games at Montreal or Boston.

NO ICE AT CHICAGO
Should Chicago defeat Rangers and Canadiens beat Boston, then the first two games will be played at Chicago on Friday and Sunday evenings and the remainder here at the Forum. Should Boston win over Canadiens, and Black Hawks beat Rangers, then all the games will be played at Boston as there will be no ice available in Chicago after Sunday night and Boston will have choice of ice for the remainder of the series.

Should Bruins defeat Canadiens to-night the final and deciding game will be played here Wednesday evening.

ALLISON WINS AT HONOLULU
U.S. Davis Cup Player Advance in Mid-Pacific Tennis
Honolulu, March 30.—The United States, Australia and Japan survived the third day of the mid-Pacific tennis championships with flying colors.

William Allison, U.S. Davis Cup player, had little difficulty disposing of William Hooge, Hawaii, by scores of 6-1, 6-4. D. P. Turnbull, Australian junior champion, defeated Richard Hooge, Hawaii, 7-5, 7-5.

In the first round of the doubles, Allison and J. Gilbert Hall ranked eighteenth in the United States, breezed through a straight set victory over the Hawaiian team, composed of Alfred Castle and Fred Biven. The scores were 6-1, 6-2.

The Japanese team of Osamu Akimoto-Tokio Kuwabara also survived the first round doubles, defeating a team of countrymen, who are residents of Hawaii, Charles Akana and Genpachi Tashima, 7-5, 6-4.

The Australian doubles team, Turnbull and Dave Thompson, the latter junior champion of Queensland, won over the Dease Brothers, W. and Maitland, Hawaii, 5-7, 6-1, 6-2.

Mixed Foursomes Are Scheduled At Victoria Course
On Easter Monday mixed foursomes will be played at the Victoria Golf Club, consisting of eighteen holes medal play with half the combined handicap allowance. Handicaps will be limited to thirty. Competitors will choose their partners, arrange for their opponents and starting times. Post entries will be received.

Wins $100,000 In Richest Race
Moneyed aristocrat of the turf was Mike Hall, famous cup champion, shown above with his owner, H. M. Eastman. The gallant seven-year-old won the wealthiest of all running races, the $100,000 added Agua Caliente handicap, at Agua Caliente, Mexico. After being last at the starting gate, he surged forward to finish first and set a new track record of 2:03 flat for the mile and a quarter.

Uplands Course To Be Open To Title Seekers
Officials of the Uplands Golf Club announced to-day that their course will be open to competitors in the B.C. amateur golf championship to be held Easter week-end, on Wednesday and Thursday. This will give the players a chance to get in some practice rounds.

An appeal for gone golfers is also being made by the Uplands, and the youngsters should be in attendance at the club bright and early Good Friday morning.

THE CHOCTAW SETS RECORD TO WIN STAKE
Audley Stock Farm's Entry Captures $5,000 Agua Caliente Cup
Agua Caliente, Mexico, March 30.—The Choctaw, fleet gelding from the Audley Farm stable, won the renewal of the $5,000 added Agua Caliente cup here yesterday afternoon. The Choctaw won by a nose from McGonigle with Alexander Pantages getting the show.

Alexander Pantages, racing for Rodney and Lloyd Pantages, sons of the theatre magnate, won the stake the first time it was run at the Agua Caliente Jockey Club track a year ago. He went out to set the pace yesterday and held a good lead for a mile and one-half. Then The Choctaw, which had been in second place, started moving up with McGonigle and Seth's Hope with them. The Choctaw and McGonigle passed the tiring leader but Seth's Hope could not hold out in the stretch and finished fourth. Evast, remaining entry in the two-mile race, bled and was pulled up to finish last. The Choctaw ran the two miles in 3:36, equalling the track record set by Alexander Pantages last year.

Bobby Jones, emperor of the links, who played an exhibition match at the Agua Caliente Golf Club yesterday morning, joined with Miss Marjorie Beebe, screen comedienne, in crowning the winner of the stake after the race. The Choctaw paid $5 to win and $3.20 to place. There was no show betting. Tickets on McGonigle were worth $3.60 to place.

LINE-UPS
New York—Rochester: Johnson, Peters, Boucher, F. Cook, W. Cook, Sube, Jerwa, Thompson, Murdoch, Keeling, Regan, Dillon and Maracle.
Chicago—Gardiner, Abel, Wentworth, Cook, Adams, March, Sube, Ripley, Somers, Couture, Arbour, Graham, Gottselig, Ingram, Bostron, Desjardins and Romnes.
Officials—Corbeau and Goodman.
Montreal, Que., March 30.—Smart goaltending by George Mantha after five minutes overtime, gave Canadiens their second straight game over Boston Bruins Saturday night in the National League first-place play-off. Boston repeated their feat of the first game, a magnificent third-period drive bringing them from behind to force the tiring Canadiens into overtime. Difference lay in that the colorful local team secured the deciding goal this time in a desperate spur in overtime. It was a rugged, bumpy, nerve-racking struggle, with Canadiens dragging out a slim 4 to 3 victory by dint of sheer speed and aggressiveness. Boston will lodge an official protest on the failure of Referee Ion and Hewitson to report to the Boston bench each penalty and score in the first two periods, in accordance with the play-off rules of the National Hockey League. Manager Ross stated that the outcome of the game is not under protest and that Boston does not ask that the game be replayed.
Over 13,000 fans crowded the forum as Bruins and Canadiens looked on in their third play-off struggle. Boding began in the first few seconds and was allowed impartially throughout the sixty-five minutes of play. With Shore in the penalty box, Sylvio Mantha crashed through right wing and scored on Tiny Thompson two and a half minutes after the game began. Ten seconds before the period ended Gagnon slipped a pass to Dit Clapper and Boston drew abreast of the speeding Canucks.
CANADIENS IN LEAD
Gus Rivers put the Canadiens in the lead again in the second period.

Referees—Ion and Hewitson.
First period—1, Canadiens, S. Mantha, 2:30; 2, Boston, Clapper (Gagnon), 17:20. Penalties: Shore.
Second period—3, Canadiens, Rivers, 22:5; 4, Canadiens, G. Mantha, 17:37. Penalties: Joliat, Chapman.
Third period—5, Boston, Welland (Owens), 55; 6, Boston, Barry (Welland and Clapper), 10:10. Penalty: Joliat (2), Clapper, Gagnon, Shore, Chapman.
Overtime period—7, Canadiens, G. Mantha (Larochelle), 5:10. Penalties: None.

SEATTLE ICE TEAMS CHAMPS
Win Northwest Amateur Titles by Wins Over Vancouver Ex-Kings and Kitsilano
Seattle, March 29.—A dynamiting University of Washington economics instructor—Don McKenzie—supplied the punch that gave University Post's hockey six the championship of the northwest to-night. McKenzie dazzled the fans with a brilliant exhibition of stickwork to score two goals as his team defeated the EX-KING George sextette of Vancouver, B.C., 3 to 1. The championship series of two games goes to University, 5 to 2, University having won last Sunday's opening game, 2 to 1.
The Georgians got the jump on University, Gamlin scoring on a pass from Follis early in the first period. The goal evened the total goals of the series at 2-1.
But McKenzie boomed up the ice on a solo, zooming past everybody and beating Milne with a nice shot to make the score of the game 1-1. In the second period McKenzie counted again, rapping Sibbetta's pass into the net. Ross York cut loose with a long shot in the third period. It passed through Milne's knees without even a glance from the goalie, who didn't know the goal had been shot until the puck banged up against his heels on the rebound from the net.
KITSILANO BEATEN
In the second game on to-night's bill, the Kitsilano team of Vancouver bowed to a team of Seattle all-stars, 4 to 3, putting up another sensational scrap. The local star team was, just as last Sunday, made up mostly of senior players and even at that the visiting juniors gave them a battle every minute. Joe Fritz got two of the goals that helped the all-stars along the victory, and Joe wasn't supposed to play, a junior being supposed to replace him. North McCune and Lloyd Carlos played nice hockey for the all-stars.
The games closed the season for Sunday night hockey in Seattle.

TORONTO DEATH
Toronto, March 30.—Dr. V. H. McWilliams, fifty-five, member of the Civic Health Department and medical staff officer in the Great War, died in hospital here to-day. Dr. McWilliams was widely known in athletic circles, having won the Canadian lawn bowling championship some years ago. More recently he was an ardent curler.

BOBBY JONES AND DIEGEL ARE BEATEN
Famous Golfing Pair Lose to M. Dutra and Von Elm in Charity Match
Diegel Away Off Form and Jones Unable to Carry Burden Alone
Agua Caliente, Mexico, March 30.—Robert Tye Jones Jr., the actor, stepped out of his Hollywood make-up yesterday and for eighteen holes became Bobby Jones, the glover, again, only to taste defeat with Les Diegel when Mortie Dutra and George von Elm defeated the pair, 1 up in a match for charity.
The burden of the match rested squarely on the shoulders of this great champion of champions, as Diegel, former P. G. A. champion and local professional, could not get his iron shots to working with sufficient degree to assist on more than one hole. Of the other team, Dutra, the youngest of the Dutra brothers, who cut considerable of a swath in California winter money tournaments, who turned the trick which gave him and his business-man golfing partner the match.
Dutra, a Long Beach, Cal., professional, toured the tough course in an adverse wind in 70, one under par, against 72 for Jones, 75 for von Elm and 77 for Diegel.
ALL SQUARE AT TURN
Never during the 18 holes was the Jones-Diegel combination in front although they were all square at the turn, and in the same mathematical position until they arrived at the fifteenth. Jones and Dutra turned into the home stretch with eyes, even par against the 39's collected by Diegel and von Elm.
Only the tall, dark Castilian, Dutra, could stand the pace. He came home in 35, one under par, while Bobby hitting trouble on almost every turn, took a 37. Von Elm shot a 36 and Diegel 38.

Kozeluh Plays Waiting Game To Defeat Tilden
Berkeley, Cal., March 30.—Playing a waiting game from the baseline, Karel Kozeluh defeated William (Big Bill) Tilden in a four-set match at the Berkeley Tennis Club yesterday. The scores were 4-6, 6-3, 7-5 and 6-2.
Both played a long driving game with Tilden occasionally dishing to the net to win a point. Kozeluh won principally because he was steadier than "Big Bill."
Howard Kinsey, San Francisco, and Bob Sellers, San Francisco, defeated Tilden and Emmet Pare, Chicago, in a doubles match 6-2 and 6-1.
In a preliminary singles match Pare defeated Sellers, 6-4 and 6-2.

Officials—Corbeau and Goodman.
Montreal, Que., March 30.—Smart goaltending by George Mantha after five minutes overtime, gave Canadiens their second straight game over Boston Bruins Saturday night in the National League first-place play-off. Boston repeated their feat of the first game, a magnificent third-period drive bringing them from behind to force the tiring Canadiens into overtime. Difference lay in that the colorful local team secured the deciding goal this time in a desperate spur in overtime. It was a rugged, bumpy, nerve-racking struggle, with Canadiens dragging out a slim 4 to 3 victory by dint of sheer speed and aggressiveness. Boston will lodge an official protest on the failure of Referee Ion and Hewitson to report to the Boston bench each penalty and score in the first two periods, in accordance with the play-off rules of the National Hockey League. Manager Ross stated that the outcome of the game is not under protest and that Boston does not ask that the game be replayed.
Over 13,000 fans crowded the forum as Bruins and Canadiens looked on in their third play-off struggle. Boding began in the first few seconds and was allowed impartially throughout the sixty-five minutes of play. With Shore in the penalty box, Sylvio Mantha crashed through right wing and scored on Tiny Thompson two and a half minutes after the game began. Ten seconds before the period ended Gagnon slipped a pass to Dit Clapper and Boston drew abreast of the speeding Canucks.
CANADIENS IN LEAD
Gus Rivers put the Canadiens in the lead again in the second period.

Referees—Ion and Hewitson.
First period—1, Canadiens, S. Mantha, 2:30; 2, Boston, Clapper (Gagnon), 17:20. Penalties: Shore.
Second period—3, Canadiens, Rivers, 22:5; 4, Canadiens, G. Mantha, 17:37. Penalties: Joliat, Chapman.
Third period—5, Boston, Welland (Owens), 55; 6, Boston, Barry (Welland and Clapper), 10:10. Penalty: Joliat (2), Clapper, Gagnon, Shore, Chapman.
Overtime period—7, Canadiens, G. Mantha (Larochelle), 5:10. Penalties: None.

SEATTLE ICE TEAMS CHAMPS
Win Northwest Amateur Titles by Wins Over Vancouver Ex-Kings and Kitsilano
Seattle, March 29.—A dynamiting University of Washington economics instructor—Don McKenzie—supplied the punch that gave University Post's hockey six the championship of the northwest to-night. McKenzie dazzled the fans with a brilliant exhibition of stickwork to score two goals as his team defeated the EX-KING George sextette of Vancouver, B.C., 3 to 1. The championship series of two games goes to University, 5 to 2, University having won last Sunday's opening game, 2 to 1.
The Georgians got the jump on University, Gamlin scoring on a pass from Follis early in the first period. The goal evened the total goals of the series at 2-1.
But McKenzie boomed up the ice on a solo, zooming past everybody and beating Milne with a nice shot to make the score of the game 1-1. In the second period McKenzie counted again, rapping Sibbetta's pass into the net. Ross York cut loose with a long shot in the third period. It passed through Milne's knees without even a glance from the goalie, who didn't know the goal had been shot until the puck banged up against his heels on the rebound from the net.
KITSILANO BEATEN
In the second game on to-night's bill, the Kitsilano team of Vancouver bowed to a team of Seattle all-stars, 4 to 3, putting up another sensational scrap. The local star team was, just as last Sunday, made up mostly of senior players and even at that the visiting juniors gave them a battle every minute. Joe Fritz got two of the goals that helped the all-stars along the victory, and Joe wasn't supposed to play, a junior being supposed to replace him. North McCune and Lloyd Carlos played nice hockey for the all-stars.
The games closed the season for Sunday night hockey in Seattle.

TORONTO DEATH
Toronto, March 30.—Dr. V. H. McWilliams, fifty-five, member of the Civic Health Department and medical staff officer in the Great War, died in hospital here to-day. Dr. McWilliams was widely known in athletic circles, having won the Canadian lawn bowling championship some years ago. More recently he was an ardent curler.

BOBBY JONES AND DIEGEL ARE BEATEN
Famous Golfing Pair Lose to M. Dutra and Von Elm in Charity Match
Diegel Away Off Form and Jones Unable to Carry Burden Alone
Agua Caliente, Mexico, March 30.—Robert Tye Jones Jr., the actor, stepped out of his Hollywood make-up yesterday and for eighteen holes became Bobby Jones, the glover, again, only to taste defeat with Les Diegel when Mortie Dutra and George von Elm defeated the pair, 1 up in a match for charity.
The burden of the match rested squarely on the shoulders of this great champion of champions, as Diegel, former P. G. A. champion and local professional, could not get his iron shots to working with sufficient degree to assist on more than one hole. Of the other team, Dutra, the youngest of the Dutra brothers, who cut considerable of a swath in California winter money tournaments, who turned the trick which gave him and his business-man golfing partner the match.
Dutra, a Long Beach, Cal., professional, toured the tough course in an adverse wind in 70, one under par, against 72 for Jones, 75 for von Elm and 77 for Diegel.
ALL SQUARE AT TURN
Never during the 18 holes was the Jones-Diegel combination in front although they were all square at the turn, and in the same mathematical position until they arrived at the fifteenth. Jones and Dutra turned into the home stretch with eyes, even par against the 39's collected by Diegel and von Elm.
Only the tall, dark Castilian, Dutra, could stand the pace. He came home in 35, one under par, while Bobby hitting trouble on almost every turn, took a 37. Von Elm shot a 36 and Diegel 38.

Kozeluh Plays Waiting Game To Defeat Tilden
Berkeley, Cal., March 30.—Playing a waiting game from the baseline, Karel Kozeluh defeated William (Big Bill) Tilden in a four-set match at the Berkeley Tennis Club yesterday. The scores were 4-6, 6-3, 7-5 and 6-2.
Both played a long driving game with Tilden occasionally dishing to the net to win a point. Kozeluh won principally because he was steadier than "Big Bill."
Howard Kinsey, San Francisco, and Bob Sellers, San Francisco, defeated Tilden and Emmet Pare, Chicago, in a doubles match 6-2 and 6-1.
In a preliminary singles match Pare defeated Sellers, 6-4 and 6-2.

Stanley Cup Finals Set
Arrangements Made for Deciding Series in Battle for Hockey Supremacy
Montreal, Que., March 30.—Final arrangements for the Stanley Cup finals between the winner of the Boston-Canadiens series and the winner of the Ranger-Chicago series were announced here yesterday evening. The series which last year was the best of three games was changed this season by the National Hockey League governors and is now the best three out of five.
Should the Boston-Canadiens series end to-night with a Canadiens win, and should Rangers win over Black Hawks to-night, the first Stanley Cup games will take place on Thursday and Friday nights at New York Madison Square Garden and the remainder here. Should Boston win to-night and the series be prolonged until Wednesday, then either Boston or Canadiens will meet Rangers, should they win, on Friday night at New York and the remaining games at Montreal or Boston.

NO ICE AT CHICAGO
Should Chicago defeat Rangers and Canadiens beat Boston, then the first two games will be played at Chicago on Friday and Sunday evenings and the remainder here at the Forum. Should Boston win over Canadiens, and Black Hawks beat Rangers, then all the games will be played at Boston as there will be no ice available in Chicago after Sunday night and Boston will have choice of ice for the remainder of the series.
Should Bruins defeat Canadiens to-night the final and deciding game will be played here Wednesday evening.

ALLISON WINS AT HONOLULU
U.S. Davis Cup Player Advance in Mid-Pacific Tennis
Honolulu, March 30.—The United States, Australia and Japan survived the third day of the mid-Pacific tennis championships with flying colors.
William Allison, U.S. Davis Cup player, had little difficulty disposing of William Hooge, Hawaii, by scores of 6-1, 6-4. D. P. Turnbull, Australian junior champion, defeated Richard Hooge, Hawaii, 7-5, 7-5.
In the first round of the doubles, Allison and J. Gilbert Hall ranked eighteenth in the United States, breezed through a straight set victory over the Hawaiian team, composed of Alfred Castle and Fred Biven. The scores were 6-1, 6-2.
The Japanese team of Osamu Akimoto-Tokio Kuwabara also survived the first round doubles, defeating a team of countrymen, who are residents of Hawaii, Charles Akana and Genpachi Tashima, 7-5, 6-4.
The Australian doubles team, Turnbull and Dave Thompson, the latter junior champion of Queensland, won over the Dease Brothers, W. and Maitland, Hawaii, 5-7, 6-1, 6-2.

Mixed Foursomes Are Scheduled At Victoria Course
On Easter Monday mixed foursomes will be played at the Victoria Golf Club, consisting of eighteen holes medal play with half the combined handicap allowance. Handicaps will be limited to thirty. Competitors will choose their partners, arrange for their opponents and starting times. Post entries will be received.

Wins $100,000 In Richest Race
Moneyed aristocrat of the turf was Mike Hall, famous cup champion, shown above with his owner, H. M. Eastman. The gallant seven-year-old won the wealthiest of all running races, the $100,000 added Agua Caliente handicap, at Agua Caliente, Mexico. After being last at the starting gate, he surged forward to finish first and set a new track record of 2:03 flat for the mile and a quarter.

Uplands Course To Be Open To Title Seekers
Officials of the Uplands Golf Club announced to-day that their course will be open to competitors in the B.C. amateur golf championship to be held Easter week-end, on Wednesday and Thursday. This will give the players a chance to get in some practice rounds.
An appeal for gone golfers is also being made by the Uplands, and the youngsters should be in attendance at the club bright and early Good Friday morning.

THE CHOCTAW SETS RECORD TO WIN STAKE
Audley Stock Farm's Entry Captures $5,000 Agua Caliente Cup
Agua Caliente, Mexico, March 30.—The Choctaw, fleet gelding from the Audley Farm stable, won the renewal of the $5,000 added Agua Caliente cup here yesterday afternoon. The Choctaw won by a nose from McGonigle with Alexander Pantages getting the show.
Alexander Pantages, racing for Rodney and Lloyd Pantages, sons of the theatre magnate, won the stake the first time it was run at the Agua Caliente Jockey Club track a year ago. He went out to set the pace yesterday and held a good lead for a mile and one-half. Then The Choctaw, which had been in second place, started moving up with McGonigle and Seth's Hope with them. The Choctaw and McGonigle passed the tiring leader but Seth's Hope could not hold out in the stretch and finished fourth. Evast, remaining entry in the two-mile race, bled and was pulled up to finish last. The Choctaw ran the two miles in 3:36, equalling the track record set by Alexander Pantages last year.
Bobby Jones, emperor of the links, who played an exhibition match at the Agua Caliente Golf Club yesterday morning, joined with Miss Marjorie Beebe, screen comedienne, in crowning the winner of the stake after the race. The Choctaw paid $5 to win and $3.20 to place. There was no show betting. Tickets on McGonigle were worth $3.60 to place.

PHOTOGRAPHING AN AIRPLANE CRASH IN ACTION

Fast work by an alert cameraman caught this air crash in action. The radically-designed new duo-motored monoplane of Alan Loughhead was nearing a triumphant landing on its first trial flight at Dry Lake, Cal., when a sudden gust of wind flipped it over, crashed it on to the top of an automobile, and dropped it to the ground on its back, a complete wreck. By a miracle, no one was killed.

WINNIPEG CHAMPS AND HAMILTON ALL READY FOR FINALS

With a sudden burst of speed and lifted the puck over Nathan Stuart to place Winnipeg three goals ahead. There was no further scoring—Winnipeg needed none, and the fighting "Scoops" could get none.

Toronto, Ont., March 30.—Putting up an almost impregnable defensive barrier and swooping down for five goals when their opponents had every man up but the goalie, Hamilton Tigers Saturday defeated Truro Bearcats, mar-time champions, by 5 to 1, in the eastern Canada hockey finals for the Allan Cup. Hamilton took the two-game series, 11 to 3.

A four-goal handicap to overcome proved insurmountable for the Bearcats, their ranks depleted to one sub, but they never stopped trying from the opening face-off till the final bell. Staking everything on a whirlwind offensive proved their undoing, though for the entire first period and most of the second there was no score. The tiring Bearcats, with only one man on the defence, left themselves open for the quick sorties of the Tigers, who, aided by a penalty to Ryan, rattled in three goals in two minutes at the end of the middle session.

Ryan saved the Bearcats from a shutout near the end of the game after Hamilton added two more goals. Murdoch and Mills assisted in the counter, which came as the result of a smart combination play that brought the puck right up to the goalmouth. Marsh saved Mills's shot from close in, but Ryan poked the rebound in for the lone Truro tally.

K. OF P. WIN INTERMEDIATE HOOP HONORS

Defeat New Westminster Advan-
ance 25 to 20 to Capture
British Columbia Title.

Knights Establish Envious
Record; Christ Church and Blue Ribbon Win

Playing great basketball, the Knights of Pythias, local and Island intermediate "A" champions, defeated the fast-traveling Young Adanacs of New Westminster 25 to 20 to win the British Columbia championship and the Province Trophy at the High School Gym. Saturday evening. This victory ran the locals' string up to twelve straight wins, and it was also their fourth major title of the year. The game was one of the fastest and cleanest tussles ever witnessed on a local floor.

In the two preliminary games the Christ Church Pirates took a large lead in the Island intermediate play-off by defeating the Ladysmith Juniors 24 to 12, while the Blue Ribbons defeated the Standard Steam Laundry 25 to 8 in an exhibition fixture.

At the conclusion of the women's game Mrs. Anson presented the Woodward Cup, emblematic of British Columbia championship, to Biddy Boyce, captain of the Blue Ribbons, while Mayor Anson handed the Province Trophy, also emblematic of the provincial title, to Tommy Forbes of the K. of P.

The feature game opened at a great pace with Wright and Davey scoring two baskets to send the visitors away to an early lead. Shephard then took a pass from Tommy Forbes to score the Knights' first points, while the latter converted a free throw and a field basket to give the locals the lead. From this time on the pace was terrific, with the Victoria squad holding an 11 to 8 lead at half-time.

K. OF P. INCREASE LEAD
With the start of the second half Gaddell rang the hoop to increase the locals' lead, while a minute later New Westminster tied the count. Working the ball from man to man, the locals sent Shephard through for three baskets in a row, and maintained this lead until the final gun.

The Knights have this year established a record that has never been equaled by an intermediate team of this city. If this team keeps together for another season Mainland teams will have to watch their laurels in higher divisions.

Harold Straight of Vancouver refereed in a very capable manner, while Bill Blair handled the prelims.

Individual scores follow:
K. of P.—Cudlip (6), Forbes (4), McDonald, Gaddell (4), Shephard (10), McKenzie (1), Bissell and Brown.

Adanacs—Finnerty, Davey (5), Henderson (2), Wright (8), O'Neil (1), Turnbull (2), Phalen and Miller (2).
Blue Ribbons—B. Peden (8), T. Rennie (6), J. Edward, M. Wilson (2), B. Boyce, D. Lea and R. Bethell (8).

Standards—M. Scutt (2), V. Foubister (4), and D. Reddie (2).
Christ Church—Sharp (6), Paterson, Fuller, Harrison (10), Wilson (2), Nay-smith, Fraser (6) and Bond.
Ladysmith—Liptak (4), McNeil, Sharp, Goulay, Lawderback (3), Simpson (6), Hayes, Clarke and Cullum.

LOSE MAN BUT HOLD EDGE OVER EX-KINGS; GAME ENDS IN DRAW

Vancouver kicked back but Bryden sent play into their territory again with a pretty punt.
Campbell Forbes, Harry Robson and Bruce Forbes forced to the corner of the Mahulanders' line on a goal dribble. The Highlanders gained a five-yard line-out, and absolutely dominated play.

Horne took the ball on a cross-field passing movement and threw inside to Cy Bernard, who was forced out at the corner.
SIX INCHES FROM LINE
From the line-out Bruce Forbes secured and plunged for the line. He went down with a heap of Vancouver men on top of him. When the debris was cleared away, the ball was just six inches from the line.

Maintaining their attack, Victoria held play in the Ex-King's twenty-five for several minutes until Niblo kicked clear.

Archibald secured and raced down the wing to the Scots' twenty-five. The Highlanders returned, Parr leading a smashing forward dribble. Humphries kicked the ball back into the locals' end and Niblo dropped Bryden before he could kick.

Again the militia forwards smashed back the visitors' offensive carrying the ball to the Ex-King's end on a dribble.

Play swung from the Vancouver line to midfield as Humphries and McLean tried valiantly to clear with kicks.

WITHIN A FEW OF SCORING
From a scrum on the Ex-King's twenty-five, Normington passed to Robson, who threw to Reg Wenman. Wenman made an opening and passed to Horne on the wing. Horne raced for the corner but the Mahulanders' backs closed in on him. Just as the third Ex-King man hit him, he plunged for the line, grounding the ball less than a foot outside.

The visitors bucked back to centre and gained the Highlanders' twenty-five just as the final whistle blew.
Commander L. W. Murray refereed and the teams lined up as follows:
Canadian Scottish—Bryden, Turgoose, Horn, Reg. Wenman, Henderson, Robson, Normington, C. Forbes, G. Wenman, E. Forbes, Wharton, May, Bernard, Rowland and Parr.
Ex-King George—Humphries, Archibald, Alrasoff, Soeding, Rose, Rowan, Niblo, H. McLean, Hay, Barker, Bain, G. McLean, Henderson, Moran and Lawson.

CENTRAL WINS COLONIST CUP
In the curtain raiser Boys' Central uncocked a series of dazzling backfield plays to run over South Park to the tune of 32 to 0 to win The Colonist Cup. The teams played thirteen men rugby, with Syd Gaunt, Fillion and Fleming starting for the winners.

CANTONWINE HAS MISHAP

Car Breakdown Prevents Heavyweight Wrestler From Reaching City for Bout

Wrestling fans who attended Saturday evening's card at the Tillamook gymnasium were fortunate in being able to attend a free show. Owing to the fact that Howard Cantonwine, Iowa heavyweight, was unable to reach the city in time for his bout with Bob Kruse which was billed as the main event of the card, Promoter Fred Richardson decided to put on a show with local talent featuring, and give the fans their money back.

According to word received in the city to-day, Cantonwine suffered a breakdown with his automobile on Saturday and was unable to make boat connections to reach Victoria for his bout with Kruse.
Two young kiddies, neither of them weighing over forty pounds, and going under the names of "Young Sonnenberg" and "Young Lewis" stole the show. This pair stepped around the ring for three rounds and gave the fans as neat an exhibition of wrestling as could be desired. They showed an expert knowledge of the many holds, considering their age, and at the end of the bout the crowd showed its appreciation by littering the ring with dimes, nickels and quarters. The boys ended a draw with each youngster getting one fall.

In another scheduled three-round bout, Paul Anderson defeated "Dynamite" Cory in two straight falls. In the other local bout Erri and Hopkins wrestled to a draw.

ARTHUR WINS
In the five-round semi-windup, Ernie Arthur, holder of the Canadian middleweight championship, won in two straight falls over Sailor Pete of Portland. Arthur pinned the Portlander for successive falls in the fourth and fifth rounds. This pair put on a bout lacking in action.
It is expected Cantonwine will appear here next Saturday against Bob Kruse.

then this present one would well deserve the fate that would be meted out to it. For they have tampered with a far greater milk supply than that of Vancouver city. The "milk of human kindness" has become so watered by their selfish extravagances, that it is no longer fit for human consumption. They themselves wax fat on the cream, whilst we are left to starve on the butter milk, which we are told is ever so much better for us, even if it doesn't taste so good!

"It is a mad world, my masters," how mad we are only just beginning to realize. That the people will some day awaken to their own foolishness is inevitable, but why they keep putting off the day, whilst the powers that be keep tightening the screws, is more than I can understand.

For in the end it is the people themselves who must decide their destiny. And whilst The Colonist ignores my letters, whilst it tries to camouflage foul acts by fair words, he must know that "truth will out" and that it is as useless to try to turn back the sea with a pitchfork, as it is to turn back the flood of popular wrath.

"New thought" in politics has come to stay. The first nail in the coffin of "party" has been driven well home, and the antics of our so-called governors have added much weight to the hammer.

One can well understand their indecent haste to end the session, the longer they are on the stage exposed to end by the spotlight, of truth and public criticism, the less chance has their "farce" of a continued or successful run. Their rags of simulated righteousness are not thick enough to clothe their well-fed bodies, nourished on the sweat of honest toil; their only hope, and unfortunately it is a big one, is that with their final exit, the hopeless spacy of the public will once again resume control. It is our job to see that it does not.

It is our job to see that it does not. I hold no brief for the Liberal party, indeed until these wolves in sheep's clothing, these living liars on a grand old word, dissipated by their acts the very meaning of the word, I was a believer in the party system and a Conservative at heart.

Now, sir, I am a confessed opponent of the whole system, but in publishing my letters, you have used the weapons of a clean and honorable foe and as such, I salute you.

In refusing publication to a series of letters which have caused more comment locally than others have done in years, The Colonist defies the words of John Milton, one of the world's greatest thinkers, when he said, "Give me liberty to know, to utter and to argue freely, according to conscience, above all other liberties."

Much water must have flowed through The Colonist since they used this quotation in their own defence in August, 1918.

T. GUY SHEPPARD.

So Little Left

for herself and children

MANY a "good man" owns only $2,000 of Life Insurance—believing that, should he die, his widow will have at least that amount of money.

Experience shows, however, that a large portion of the two thousand dollars goes to the doctor, the hospital and the undertaker. Bills must be paid—and the Life Insurance money is often the only means of payment. The widow and the fatherless . . . in their time of greatest need . . . get only what is left.

Fortunately, your family need never face such a future. With the aid of small, systematic savings, you can afford sufficient Life Insurance to safeguard adequately your wife and children.

Consult a Life Insurance Representative today and he will suggest a plan of protection exactly suited to your needs.

SAYS VITAMIN FAD IS MANIA

St. Paul, March 30.—The "vitamin mania of the twentieth century" is criticized by Dr. Walter C. Alvarez of the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., in an article based on diet questionnaires answered by 470 physicians throughout the United States.

The article appears in the current issue of "Everybody's Health," published by the Minnesota Public Health Association.

Dr. Alvarez concluded food should be chosen primarily for its digestibility, and secondly for its vitamin content. He said vitamin deficiency diseases were rare in the United States.

Sensible eaters, said Dr. Alvarez, have sufficient vitamins in their systems to last over any reasonable period of semi-starvation.

Bran and similar roughage, he believes, are conducive to ill-health rather than making for good health.

Seattle, March 30.—When the Queen of Sheba came to pay that visit to King Solomon she brought him much in the way of gold and jewels, wondrous fabrics and rich spices. And she also brought him a rare lily, a great black lily, other than in color corresponding to what is known as the black lily; and it is presumed that this black lily was set out in the gardens of the temple to perpetuate the species, though it has never become anything less than extremely rare.

The only known descendant of King Solomon's lily in the United States came from an old Moorish garden in Spain. It is now in Seattle, by courtesy of its owner, Martha Phillips, well-known author and lecturer, who has sent it for exhibition at the Daffodil and Conservation Show in the Olympic Hotel. The botanical name is Arum Palestine, and while that would suggest the habitat of a dry and warm climate, this lily, unusual, beautiful and odorous, actually thrives in low temperatures. It will be of interest to all flower lovers.

LITTLE KNOWN CAMPAIGN OF THE GREAT WAR

"Hush-hush Army" in Which Some Canadians Served

Canadians participated actively on most of the allied fronts during the Great War, either as organized forces or as individual groups. Not the least important of these ventures was the campaign, if such it can be termed, in Northwest Persia in 1918, a campaign which embodied all the elements of a medieval romance with a twentieth century cast. To most people it will come as interesting "news" even at this time to be told that thirteen years ago a group of nearly fifty Canadian officers and sergeants were sent "gypsying" through Kurdistan and the Persian Mountains, detailed on a mission that was doomed to failure from the beginning, but taking part in what is not infrequently described as one of the most colossal bluffs of the war, "Dunsterforce" was the name given to this corps, which was commanded by that extremely romantic figure, General L. C. Dunsterforce—an officer who will live on as the "Stalky" of Kipling's stories of English public school life.

What this group of Canadians did, the somewhat weird episodes in which they played a conspicuous and highly meritorious role, are described in the first of a series of articles compiled by Captain W. W. Murray, M.C., in the current issue of The Canadian Defence Quarterly, published in Ottawa. The writer, it is explained editorially, was not a member of this corps, but for nearly two years he has been accumulating data from the Canadian personnel who returned to this country. The result of his labors is a story that takes readers far from the beaten paths of ordinary activities of the Great War and unfolds a picture as attractive as it is unique. The "Dunsterforce" expedition was necessitated by the collapse of the Russian army on the Caucasian front following the Bolshevik revolution. The right flank of the British Mesopotamian force extended north-easterly from Baghdad, up the Diyala River, to the neighborhood of Khanakin, a mountainous village on the Persian-Mesopotamia frontier. From there it had been extended by the Russians through North West Persia to the Caucasus, across the Caucasus Mountains. The dissolution of this flank left a wide-open door through which the Turks, Germans and Bolsheviks could march, over-running Persia and Afghanistan and clearing a road to India. How to close this gap was a problem. Expected to be a German offensive in France, the British could spare no troops from the Western Front; none could be obtained from Allenby in Palestine; the Mesopotamian Army itself had its hands full.

The situation was met, or at least an attempt was made to meet this situation, by despatching a skeleton force of officers and sergeants, assisted by a handful of British Midlanders, to put on a demonstration of force in that region. Their instructions were to make a bluff, to bluff the Caucasus, and there raise an army of Georgians, loyal Russians, Kurds, Armenians—anyone who would fight the Turks—and train that polyglot force for service against the Moslems.

To the Canadians in France the call for volunteers for this "Hush-Hush Army" came as a refreshing prospect in spite of the fact that not until they had offered their services to the British had been secretly assembled in the Tower of London were they informed of the destination and purpose of their enterprise. Their reaction was typical of them.

"In France it had been somewhat of a problem to handle their own outfits—men whose language they thoroughly understood and with whose general characteristics they were familiar. But this . . . Well, they'd have a go at it, anyway."

They finally reached Persia and at once plunged into a bubbling cauldron of brigandage, revolution, famine, treachery and war—all the constituents of an Oriental tale. How two Canadians, Capt. G. S. Hopkins of Hopkins Landing, B.C., and Sgt. Thomas Pegg of Canoe, B.C., formed two of a raiding party which arrested the hakim, or governor, of Hamadan is graphically sketched. "A visit paid by the Canadians—Col. John Warden of Vancouver, G. C. Burridge and "Tommy" Hodgson of Montreal, Walter Chambers of Pembroke, Ont., A. H. Gillmore of Winnipeg, R. Harrison of Minnedosa, Man., Bill Petrie of Saskatoon, and others—to Sheikh Gazal of Hamanmerah is whimsically described. "A felicitous atmosphere invested the call. In the first place it synchronized with the celebrations in honor of Ghazal having taken unto himself for better or for worse his forty-third and forty-fourth brides. The party had been going for three weeks, and the night was still young. . . . But their work in Persia was not all so light. The Persians resented their coming and put every obstacle in their way of achieving their purpose. In the Ussuri country, near the Caspian and toward their route to Enzeli, a revolution under a Persian nationalist, Kuti-khan, was in full swing. Further complicating affairs was the presence of the last demoralized remnants of the once courageous army of General Barakoff, now completely Bolshevikized. The Persians were wandering all over northwest Persia. A small corps of Cossacks, commanded by Col. Bicherakoff and calling themselves the "Parimanski," continued loyal to the old regime. (To this force was attached later Major H. K. Newcombe of Winnipeg, who accompanied them through their wanderings in the Caucasus and rejoined Dunsterforce in time to participate in the defense of Kaku.)

One hundred miles to the west, in the Kurdish mountains, was a Turkish army. It was this army that had to be bluffed. A front of over 600 miles had to be held by less than 1,000 officers and men. By sheer nerve and limitless cheek this feat was accomplished. The Turks were forced to remain immobile for months—long enough to allow the danger of penetration to India to pass. Canadians were outstanding in their contribution to this achievement, their native wit and unflinching courage more than matching the subtle intrigues by which they were completely enmeshed.

New and Delightful "Toggery"

For Little and Bigger Girls

Whether she be still the little girl of the home, or if she is "up to Dad's shoulder" or "as tall as Mother," her thoughts are turning to the new clothes she hopes to have for Easter. There is no "awkward age" for the growing girl nowadays, for the tall 13-year-old may wear clothes designed for her special needs and in her most becoming colors and thus gain poise and the right degree of self-confidence, while mothers find that—particularly at present low prices—the up-to-date outfit need cost very little.

Funeral Notices, in Memorial Notices and Cards of Thanks, $1.50 per insertion.

In computing the number of words in an advertisement, estimate groups of three or less figures as one word. Dollar marks and all abbreviations count as one word.

In estimating the number of lines in an advertisement, count five words for the first two lines and seven words for each line thereafter. This is not an absolute guide to the number of lines, much depending on the length of the individual words.

The Times will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one issue.
Any claim for rebate on account of error or omissions must be made within thirty days from the date of the same, otherwise the claim will not be allowed.

Advertisers who desire it may have replies addressed to a box at the Times office and forwarded to their private address. A charge of 10c is made for this service.

Subscribers wishing their addresses changed should notify this office, as well as the carrier. If your times is missing, phone E4175 before 8 a.m. and a copy will be sent by special messenger.

Wonders of Bolivia

To-day we shall visit the little-known country called Bolivia. In the western central part of South America.

Bolivia is larger than Germany and France combined; but it contains a smaller number of people than Holland.

If you locate Bolivia on a map, you may guess at least one of the reasons it has a small population. The western part of the country is filled with high mountains, and mountain lands are likely to have few people.

In Bolivia's jungles are thousands of monkeys, along with tapers, armadillos, pumas and jaguars. In the swamps are alligators of mighty size. The forests contain the prize mahogany and rosewood trees, as well as many other kinds. Birds with brightly-colored feathers fly from tree to tree. Traveling from the jungle lowlands toward the Andes, we go up valleys which have fertile soil. In these valleys the natives raise rice, corn, wheat and other crops.

After a time we reach the place which is called "the highest capital city in the world." This city is named La Paz, and is more than 12,000 feet above sea level. The population is 150,000. (Sure, a smaller city, was at one time capital of Bolivia; but it gave way to La Paz.)

At an even greater height than La Paz is a famous lake. It is called "Titicaca."

Lake Titicaca is the largest lake in South America. It is 130 miles long and thirty miles wide. In some parts it is more than 700 feet deep.

There are nearly 200,000 members of Uncle Ray's Scrapbook Club. If you wish to join send a stamped self-addressed envelope to Uncle Ray and ask for illustrated Direction Leaflet and 1931 Membership Certificate.

Modern Methods Bring Aid
To Children Suffering From Tuberculosis Of The Bone

By DR. MORRIS FISHEIN

For years the impression has prevailed that sunlight is of great advantage in tuberculosis.

More than 100 years ago it was customary for people with tuberculosis in Great Britain to go to the sunny sections of France and Italy in order to prolong their lives.

Within the present quarter of a century, Dr. A. Rollier of Switzerland established definitely the advantage of sunlight and outdoor air in the treatment of tuberculosis of the bones and joints.

Recently investigators have been checking the effects of the climate, and now Sir Henry Gauvain claims that it is possible to get just as good results in tuberculosis of the bones and joints in England as in the sunny Swiss Alps.

Apparently it is not so much the continuous exposure to the sun that is important as the stimulus to the production of the heat by the body as the result of exposure to outdoor air combined with sunlight, at least for some portion of the day.

One of the hospitals in England devoted particularly to the care of tuberculosis of the bones and joints in children has just made a report indicating that results were secured in England just as good as those secured by Rollier in Switzerland.

As part of the treatment, patients are given graduated sea bathing and outdoor sunlight, and if outdoor sunlight is not available, they are given treatment with artificial sources of ultraviolet rays. In addition, the patients are submitted to the stimulus of climatic change and, of course, they get the benefit of change of environment.

Moreover, the period in the hospital is used to teach these patients various handicrafts and occupations and the opportunity is used to give them the advantage of modern reconstructive and plastic surgery in order to improve the functional action of the crippled limbs.

Such surgery employs both grafts and the transfer of skin, which, when performed by competent masters of the surgical art, yields excellent results. Among cases treated in the British hospital there were 34 cases of spinal disease, 52 of disease of the hip, 21 of disease of the knee, and 69 of tuberculosis in other parts of the body.

The study of this condition has been persistent, and to-day the child with tuberculosis of the bones or joints has a considerable opportunity of securing a satisfactory cure of his condition, and that it is sufficient to practice a useful means of securing a livelihood.

MURDERS AND SUICIDE
Rochester, N.Y., March 30.—Locked in their apartment for two days, unknown to neighbors, bodies of a man, his wife and the woman's brother, each with a hole in the skull from bullets believed fired by the husband, were found to-day. They were Fred O. Morse, sixty-two; Mrs. May Morse, fifty-five; and Loren G. Cushman, fifty-eight.

Sez Hugh:

NEWS IN BRIEF

Four more charges of obtaining money by false pretences were laid this morning in City Police Court against Edward C. Hooper, already charged on two counts. The hearing will be on Thursday.

The Chamber of Commerce will forward a letter to the N.Y.K. headquarters protesting against the decision of that line to eliminate Victoria as a port of call for most of its ships, as the result of a resolution put forward by Alderman W. T. Stratton and adopted at the directors' meeting to-day.

Possibility that the usual meeting of the City Council this week would be held until the end of the week loomed to-day when Mayor Anson said the aldermen probably would not be called together until after the Legislature prorogued, and the bill to give the city refunding powers signed.

Support for the Vancouver resolution opposing the increase in the railway rates for the shipment of tea from Vancouver to the prairies, was given by the directors of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce at their luncheon to-day. Eastern Canadian interests had sought to have the rates put up, it was stated.

To discuss the possibility of forming a hospital area for the lower island, a committee from the Jubilee Hospital this morning waited upon the provincial government but was advised to postpone the discussion owing to the pressure of prorogation of the House. The matter will be discussed with the cabinet at a future date.

The Haldreth's Bill was briefly discussed in the Legislature this morning, with H. D. Twigg, Victoria, and J. W. Cornett, South Vancouver, opposing the measure, and A. M. Mason, K.C., Omicame, and Thos. Uphill, Fernie, speaking in support. No action was taken, the house rising to have a group photograph taken on the Parliament Buildings steps.

The Britannia Branch concert party entertained members of the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada, Victoria Unit, on Saturday night at the Army and Navy quarters. The following artists contributed to the programme: Tom Obee, "Buster" Brown, Will James, Ernie Franklin, Bobby Lee, Will Holmes, Al. McKinnon, P. Holman, W. Easton and Major Watts.

Word was received here this morning from Moose Jaw that the Rev. W. S. Sippell, D.D., formerly pastor of the Metropolitan United Church of this city, has received the pastorate of the Zion United Church of Moose Jaw. He will take over the pulpit of that church August 1. Dr. Sippell is at present making a tour of the Holy Land and will be in Jerusalem on Good Friday.

James H. Beatty, M.P.P., Col. J. Lightbody and R. R. Webb, left yesterday evening for Vancouver. They are to-day attending the quarterly meeting of the executive of the Automobile Club of British Columbia. As delegates from the Victoria branch they are seeking the support of the provincial officers for a 6-cent gasoline tax, the increase to be offset by reduction of the annual license fees to a flat charge for all types and ages.

A short wave radio transmitter has been presented to the Signaling Section of the Canadian Scottish Regiment, 1st Battalion, by E. J. Haughton, superintendent of the radiotelegraph branch of the Marine and Air Corps, British Columbia division. The transmitter is of the latest type and will be used in instructing members of the signaling section in short-wave telegraphy. It will be installed in the Bay Street Armories as soon as possible.

Many Victorians will be interested in the news of Major Douglas F. Scott's appointment as assistant vice-president of the Bank of America National Trust and Savings Association, California's largest banking institution. Major Scott is the son of William E. Scott, former deputy minister of agriculture for British Columbia, and was born in Victoria. Previous to his attainment of great prominence in the field of banking, he resided in Los Angeles as assistant superintendent of the Cecil B. de Mille motion picture studios at Culver City.

An enjoyable social evening was held in the Odd Fellows' Hall by the members of Colfax Rebekah Lodge and their friends. Bro. J. Gardiner announced the programme. Those taking part included Master Willie McPhail and Mrs. Vane, pupils of Mrs. Ona Victoria school of expression, both giving elocution numbers. Thelma Pomeroy, Shirley Anderson, Norma Hurry, Lois Russell and Mary Duffert, clever dancers, puppets of the Violet Fowkes Dance Studio, interpreted some dance numbers; vocal selections by Mrs. Geo. Mowbray and A. Jackman; comic song and sketch, by Bros. Joe Dobbie and J. Bourke, the latter giving a clever ventriloquist act. Refreshments were served on the occasion. The committee, composed of the chairmanship of Sister S. A. Pomeroy, included Sisters Mrs. H. Paver, Hazel Kitt, Mrs. E. Newman, Mrs. R. Gonnason, Mrs. W. D. Todd, Mrs. J. Fleming, Mrs. W. Watson and Bro. J. Gardiner.

BETTER POSTAL AND TELEGRAPH SERVICE ASKED

A better system of telegraphic and postal communication for Victoria was urged by N. A. Yarrow before the directors of the Chamber of Commerce in a letter read at their luncheon to-day.

In his communication, Mr. Yarrow stated his firm rented a box at the local post office. Recently he had attempted to get a letter from the box on Sunday, but had found the lobby locked and the box inaccessible. Only after considerable delay had he been able to secure access to the box.

Since other important communications might be wanted on Sunday and since he considered the boxes a saving to the Post Office, he felt the lobby should be left open.

The C.P.R. and C.N.R. telegraph systems were also criticized by Mr. Yarrow, who wrote he had attempted to send a wire to Prince Rupert by means of both of the services on a Sunday evening. The two offices had been closed at 11 o'clock and the island had been virtually isolated as far as commercial wire communications were concerned, he said.

BIG LOAN FOR RELIEF AND ROADS SOUGHT

Legislature Advances Bill Authorizing $5,000,000 Bond Issue

Opposition Critical of Policy of Bonds for Temporary Unemployment Problem

The Legislature this morning gave second reading to the bill authorizing loans aggregating $5,000,000, after T. D. Pattullo, opposition leader, had secured from Hon. R. W. Bruhn, Minister of Public Works, a statement as to whether highway betterment of the interior, for which the bill provides $2,500,000.

Mr. Pattullo was also critical of an appropriation of $200,000 for the University Endowment Lands fund to loan on residences constructed on lands purchased from the government. He approved the policy but objected that an exclusive contract regarding disposal of university lands had been entered into with the province. He was political friends of the Conservative Party, who were already assured of rich insurance and sales commissions.

Approval of an appropriation for water conservation in the interior was coupled by Mr. Pattullo with the assertion that puritan activities by Conservatives had been a factor, before their attainment to office, in spurring irrigationists to refusal to repay sums due, which had resulted in the government having to waive interest amounting to over $1,000,000.

There had never been any intention on the part of the Liberal government to collect the cost of irrigation works in the South Okanagan area from settlers, Mr. Pattullo stated, that, when the district was fully settled, the irrigation works were to have been turned over to the landowners, the price paid for land being set against the cost of water service and the province as a whole meeting any further cost as one of the charges involved in re-establishing returned soldiers.

RELIEF POLICY BAD
Mr. Pattullo was also critical of the government's provision for relief of the unemployed, $2,000,000 of the loan was for "unemployment relief or other undertakings." He expressed the opinion that unemployment relief already provided would have to be paid to the treasury from the new loan, which was in fact only to aid in making good the deficits incurred up to March 31 of this year. He protested the policy of issuing forty-year term bonds to meet a temporary situation.

CONTRACTS URGED
G. A. Walkem, Conservative, Vancouver, criticised the government for carrying out public works by day labour. He recommended more work be let by contract. He was also critical of estimates of revenue to be earned by road construction, remarking "Tourists should come once. The government should take pleasure in the fact that reasonable throughout the province." He believed the Peace River district would repay road construction investments.

Thos. Uphill, Labor, Fernie, appealed for $400,000 for a road into the Flathead district so that supplies might enter from Canadian centres. Mr. Bruhn said the work was being considered.

Dr. W. H. Sutherland, Liberal, Revelstoke, remarked that the programme of Mr. Bruhn, which included work on the Big Bend Road and the construction of a number of blind-end highways, was merely a continuation of the policy he had personally mapped out when holding the office of Minister of Public Works.

Hon. J. H. Hughes, Minister of Lands, G. Haggie, North Okanagan, W. Cornett, South Vancouver, and Capt. Fitzsimmons, Kaslo-Slocan, also spoke briefly during the debate.

OPPOSE COAL BILL CLAUSES

Chamber of Commerce Directors Favor Free Interchange of Fuel Mined in Canada

C. P. Hill Tells Directors Price Here About Twice What It Is Worth

Endorsement of the resolution submitted by the special coal committee of the Chamber of Commerce to the effect that the Chamber favored uniform treatment of coal sold in British Columbia, providing it was mined in Canada, was given by the directors of the chamber at their luncheon to-day.

The matter was brought up by the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce which protested against a bill now before the B.C. Legislature on the ground that certain clauses contained unfriendly discrimination against the sale of Alberta coal.

Speaking on the matter, C. P. Hill explained that the coal belt in British Columbia was so placed that Fernie could produce a fuel with the highest B.T.U. in western Canada. In Alberta the vein produced a type of highly volatile coal suitable for the production of coal gas. Victoria should have the right to use this on a system of free interchange, he declared, noting that the different veins had their particular uses.

PRICE FAR TOO HIGH
The average price paid for coal here was twice what it was worth, he declared. This was due to a certain extent to the fact that miners were only given about two days' work a week. On Vancouver Island the coal was being brought up coast thru other districts owing to the amount of rock in the veins.

With this and the fact that freight charges were about $2 a ton, the cost of the commodity was about $7 a ton. It was a shame to pay another $5 to the dealer, he concluded.

J. O. Cameron voiced the opinion that even if the bill was passed by the British Columbia Government, no court would consider the act valid if a test case arose.

WESTINGHOUSE MANAGER HERE

J. H. BIGGAIR

manager of the merchandising department of the Canadian Westinghouse Company, who arrived at the Empress Hotel to-day to confer with local representatives. Mr. Biggair has been looking over the situation on the coast with a view to further stimulation of sales under the merchandising department.

OPPOSITION TO TURNOVER TAX MOVE IS HEARD

Opposition to the institution of a turnover tax which, it is understood, is being considered by the Federal Government, was voiced before the directors of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce to-day in a number of letters from people involved. The legislative committee of the chamber recommended the communications be forwarded to D. B. Plunkett, member for Victoria, with a request for further information before the chamber took any definite action on it.

The letter from Macdonald's Consolidated Ltd., wholesale grocers, fruit and produce merchants, with an office here, pointed out that the small retailer would be forced to pay four per cent more under the proposed tax than would the big retailer who could deal directly with the manufacturer.

A letter from the Vancouver Board of Trade backed the move, opposing the imposition of the tax. The matter was first brought up in the form of a resolution from the Board of Trade of the city of Toronto in which that body expressed its satisfaction with the present sales tax and urged other public bodies to support it.

On a motion by J. O. Cameron the directors included in their resolution to Mr. Plunkett the statement that they would oppose the imposition of any turn-over tax.

OBITUARY

An unusually large attendance of sorrowing friends and many beautiful floral tributes marked the funeral services held Saturday afternoon over Charles Elwood McNeill, manager of the Victoria branch of the Shell Oil Company, who passed away in Vancouver on Thursday. The remains on arrival in Victoria on Friday afternoon were met at the boat by President W. Macdonald, J. F. Cameron, J. Sherratt and Dr. T. H. Johns, all of the City Club, and escorted to McCall Bros. Funeral Chapel, where services were held Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The service was conducted by Rev. W. A. Guy, during which the hymn, "Unto the Hills Around," and the benediction, "The Lord Bless Thee and Keep Thee," were sung, led by the choir of the Oak Bay United Church, under the direction of W. H. Ruffell. The pallbearers were A. Willis, J. Sherratt, W. E. Peters, L. Mosher, F. Iving, and R. Cummins. Interment was in Royal Oak Burial Park.

The remains of Miss Fanny King, who passed away in Vancouver Saturday, will arrive in the city to-morrow morning and will be conveyed to Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel where services will be held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be in Ross Bay cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Frances Spicer, wife of Richard Spicer of the Union Bank Building, View Street, passed away yesterday, aged seventy-two years. She was born in Embro, Ontario, and had been a resident of Victoria for eighteen years. She is survived by her husband, one son, one daughter, two grandchildren and a great-grandchild. The funeral will be held from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel on Wednesday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock. Interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

The death took place Sunday at St. Joseph's Hospital of Mrs. Margaret Miller Drummond, aged forty-five years. She was born in Awarthello, Scotland, and formerly resided at Cumberland, and is survived by her husband, James Drummond, of this city, one daughter, Miss Margaret Drummond, of Esquimalt, one sister in Regina, a sister in the States and a brother in Scotland. The funeral will take place on Wednesday at 2 o'clock from the Sande Funeral Chapel, and the remains will be laid to rest in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

The remains of Turner Rothwell Mullin were laid to rest in Royal Oak Burial Park Saturday afternoon, the funeral taking place from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel at 2 o'clock. Rev. Canon F. A. Chadwick officiated at the presence of many friends, the hymns sung were "Rock of Ages" and "Abide With Me." The casket and urn were covered with beautiful floral offerings. The pallbearers were H. O. Kirkham, A. Brockhurst, Dan Lennan, A. Monteth, F. Anderson and Thomas Lee.

Services were held at McCall Bros. Funeral Home this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock for John Butchart, who passed away Saturday at the family residence, 3069 Albany Road, aged eighty years.

LOUTET SEES DANGERS OF MILK TRUST

Victoria Should Be Forewarned by Vancouver's Experience

Tells Gyros History of Milk Association in Fraser Valley

Suggesting that the milk control legislation showed a trend toward the Soviet and warning against the dangers of a huge milk trust, which he claimed was now in formation on the mainland, Jack Loutet, M.P.P. for North Vancouver, addressed the Gyro Club at its luncheon in the Empress Hotel to-day.

Mr. Loutet said Victoria could profit by the experience of Vancouver. He dealt with the subject from a non-party viewpoint, declaring that it was not alone a question of milk, but of the trend of government, when legislation of such a Soviet character was allowed to go ahead.

He recalled that in 1914 in B.C. people producing milk felt their own arrangements for its sale and received the prevailing price. However, the situation was unsatisfactory to the producers, who were not always assured of a market, and formation of the Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association resulted among those producers supplying the Vancouver district. He outlined the development of condensed milk, a butter factory, cheese factory and powdered milk resulting from the need for handling the surplus.

Since the most profitable trade was through the fluid market, the inability to sell all the produce in fluid form brought down the price and legislative action was then sought to provide that every producer should receive his proper proportion of the fluid value of his milk. Thus if the association was selling fifty per cent of all the milk from the farmers in fluid form, etc., each farmer would receive fifty per cent of the fluid value of his output, and the rest according to the value of the other products, even though all of one man's milk might be sold in fluid form and all of another's made into other products.

Mr. Loutet drew attention to the danger now looming from over-production. The proper way to handle this was of course through the old law of supply and demand, but the pooling arrangement included everyone, and the new man receiving the same price as the man who had been producing for years, resulted in over-production.

He explained how milk in the Fraser Valley was collected at a central location, strained and pasteurized. "But while you can kill bacteria, you can't change the taste and sometimes, I assure you, the milk is so bad you cannot drink it," he said, declaring there was no premium placed on the milk of the man who had tiled barns and paid every attention to cleanliness in his own dairy. The pay was on the butterfat content only.

"Outside of their attempts to protect themselves by legislation there is no doubt that there is a huge dairy trust in formation," he continued, speaking of the contract between the Associated Dairies and the Fraser Valley association.

While it was argued that Vancouver had the lowest priced milk of any city in Canada except London, Ont., it was well-known that milk trusts had been formed and had raised prices. When Vancouver's trust was working properly, the result would be apparent.

"The Fraser Valley farmers don't see the danger ahead for themselves. They only see the few cents they are getting now and don't realize that when all competition is eliminated, they will be at the mercy of the milk association," he declared.

Mr. Loutet suggested the possibilities of coercion of the independents by the association, pointing out that the association had power to look over the books and business of all the independents.

Mr. Loutet outlined his own plans for remedying the situation as follows: Elimination of high bacteria content milk from fluid distribution. Paying top price only to the producers of uniform quantity and quality.

Re-establishment of the public confidence in milk.

"If you ever see the same thing rearing itself in Victoria, get ready to hit it on the head. Because you'll have trouble and plenty of trouble. I've enjoyed drinking milk since I was down to Victoria. But I'm afraid to at home unless I get it from a dairy in my own neighborhood," he concluded.

Mr. Loutet was warmly thanked for his address.

Funeral services will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock for Charles E. Lowe, former Victorian and war veteran, who passed away in Shaughnessy Military Hospital, Vancouver, on Saturday morning. The remains are resting at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel where services will be held, after which interment will be in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Mr. Lowe was born in New Westminster, the second son of the late W. H. Lowe and of Mrs. Lowe of 234 Beechwood Avenue, Victoria. He enlisted in Victoria in the 88th Battalion, C.P.F., which left for overseas duty in May, 1916. After reaching England Mr. Lowe was drafted to active service with one of the Canadian units and was wounded during the offensive on the Somme. Recovering from his wounds, he returned to France, where he was severely gassed, from the effects of which he never fully recovered.

Mr. Lowe is survived by his mother, two sisters, Mrs. James McL. Multhead, Victoria, and Mrs. B. E. Ewart, Penetang, and one brother, Richard C. Lowe, Barrister, Victoria.

SEASON OPENS FOR FAT LADIES, MIDGETS, GIANTS

It is "First Call" Time For Show Folk in Carnival Circles

It's Time for "the First Call" of Carnivals, Meaning It's Open Season for Midgets, Giants and Other Show Folk.

New York, March 30.—In the tent show world they refer to it as "the first call."

Which means that it is open season for midgets, fat ladies, giants, Siamese twins, Hawaiian dancing girls.

It is open season for grind stores, bucking mules, shooting galleries, hokey-pokey men, auto bumpers, needle joints, country stores and corn games.

It is open season for tricky ride devices, tattoo artists, tab shows, walk-thrus, snake shows, wheels and novelty acts.

It is open season for pit shows and pitch men, glass blowers and magicians, candy floss merchants and animal shows, bird circuses, frozen custard makers, minstrels and motor-dromes.

In brief, it is open season for the people of the carnival world.

Spring must be right around the corner.

There is no geographic point from which "the first call" is sounded.

It may be some tiny winter quarters out in Missouri or it may be the middle of Broadway or a side street in Chicago. To be sure, in New York there is a particular scurrying in the vicinity of upper Eighth Avenue and the mid-Forties, where carnival people oftentimes dwell during off season.

MAKES NATURE FAKES

But if you follow your billboard as religiously as do the folk of the wandering show world, you will know that there are strange things scattered about the land waiting to be sold to some enterprising showmen looking about for a chance to pick up loose attractions, as well as seeking certain well-known old-timers.

It might interest you to know, for instance, that in dear old Boston there is a gent who makes whales and has two-headed babies lying around waiting to be exhibited.

His advertisement reads: "Whales! I make them! Also two-headed baby in bottle. Grown together girls and others."

What more could you ask?

SOME UNUSUAL JOBS

In so remote a place as Smith Centres, Kansas, there is a fellow who could use a "banned man who doubles in the band" and a clown who also can parade.

There is also quite a demand for gentlemen who are tattooed over their bodies and who are slightly artistic in applying the dear old needle. Some one wants a "half man-half woman, who is also genteel and refined." It is quite a job.

As for New York itself—it is inhabited at the moment by enough medicine show folk to cover a dozen small towns.

Indian medicine shows, particularly where the big chiefs appear in full regalia, are turning the big town yokels away. The particular vogue, however, is for medicine men who promise to turn the puny, pale-faced city lads into big he-men over night.

This sort of exhibition has its strongest appeal in sections of Sixth Avenue, where the employment agencies are thickest. Here hundreds of discouraged jobless men saunter back and forth and react to the appeal that a few doses of something-or-other will give them back lost courage and help them face the world again.

Some of them put up their last dollar in this wistful effort.

Regimental Activities

AT THE THEATRES

Joan Crawford In Fine Role At Dominion

"Dance, Fools, Dance" Brings Popular Star to Screen in Gripping Portrayal

Joan Crawford presents two extremes in her new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer talkie, "Dance, Fools, Dance," which opened Saturday at the Dominion Theatre.

In this graphic cross-section of Chicago's underworld, the glamorous star reaches both the heights and depths of the social plane, enacting the most dramatic and gripping role of her career. It is in every sense a fresh triumph for Miss Crawford and reveals her capabilities as a dramatic star more deeply than any other role she has essayed.

Harry Beaumont directed the new Crawford talkie from the story by Aurania Rouverol that belies its title by being perhaps the most fascinating story of all the gangster plots yet to reach the public.

Lester Vail, a newcomer, plays opposite Joan with charm and a splendid acquittal of his role. William Bakewell is cast as Joan's brother for whom she makes a tragic sacrifice, and Clark Gable is the sinister gang chieftain. Cliff Edwards lays aside his ukulele to negotiate a difficult straight dramatic part.

Others in the cast who offer splendid performances are William Holden, Earl Hamilton, Natalie Moorhead, Joan Marsh and Russell Hopton.

Thrilling Drama Of African Beasts At Columbia Theatre

"Africa Speaks" Was Filmed On Dark Continent By Paul Hoefer, Noted Lion Hunter

Paul L. Hoefer, noted explorer representing the Colorado-African expedition, hunted the lion with his camera in the jungle regions of Tanganyika, Africa, making an unsurpassed pictorial record of the daily habits of the king of beasts in its native haunts.

These supply one of the interesting features of "Africa Speaks," released by Columbia Pictures. It is playing at the Columbia Theatre to-day.

The carnivorous cat provokes the plains of Tanganyika looking for prey and are a continual menace to the members of the Masai tribes of the district. The courageous hunters of the tribes is demonstrated by the fact that they appoint a toto armed only with a short spear to guard the livestock of the clan from the marauding lions.

"Just Imagine" Now At The Playhouse With Comedy Stars

DeSylva, Brown and Henderson Play in One of Season's Funniest Features

"Just Imagine," the second DeSylva, Brown and Henderson Fox Movietone musical comedy, had an auspicious opening before a capacity audience at the Playhouse Theatre and should play to packed houses its entire run.

The authors of the tuneful "Sunny Side Up" have taken a long step forward with their second talking screen production, and have provided a sensational picture that is certain to rank as high or higher than their first Movietone effort.

El Brendel has his biggest role since entering talking pictures and does admirably. He is ably assisted in the fun making by Marjorie White and Frank Albertson. Others in the cast who contribute outstanding performances are Maureen O'Sullivan and John Garrick.

The music is of the popular hit variety for which DeSylva, Brown and Henderson are famous, and at least three of the numbers are certain to be heard for some time to come.

David Butler, who directed "Sunny Side Up," excelled his great work on that picture, as did Seymour Felix, who staged the dance numbers.

Musical Burlesque Of War Days Plays On Coliseum Screen

English Cast in Clever Film; Dorothy Mackail Also Starring in "Strictly Modern"

"Not So Quiet on the Western Front" is another of those splendid productions from the British International Pictures and is showing at the Coliseum Theatre. It is a funny musical burlesque and sets a new standard in the art of cinema comedy. It features Leslie Fuller, England's new screen comedian and is one of the sensational successes of the year. It is packed full of humorous dialogue, catchy songs and splendid dance numbers made for laughing purposes only—it amply fulfills its mission. In addition to this feature, another English artist will be seen in the person of delightful Dorothy Mackail in a full length Vitaphone comedy of modern manners, entitled "Strictly Modern."

Next Tuesday will be the third of the "Music Lovers Nights," with the symphony orchestra under the direction of Alfred Prescott.

Evelyn Laye At Capitol In New Play

"One Heavenly Night" Is First Screen Effort of Well-known Writer, Louis Bromfield

Louis Bromfield joined the Samuel Goldwyn writing staff last spring to take a hand with Sidney Howard in preparing the story for Evelyn Laye's first talking picture, "One Heavenly Night," which is to be seen at the Capitol Theatre.

"One Heavenly Night" is his original story for pictures, his first screen play. Two years ago, he did a play of his novel, "The House of Women." Currently, he is at work on the dramatization of his most recent book, "Twenty-Four Hours," which the veteran William A. Brady is to produce.

Bromfield was born in Mansfield, Ohio, thirty-three years ago, of Scottish, English and Pennsylvania Dutch ancestry. He was educated in the public schools and always had an ambition to be a writer, from which he swerved only once when he went to Cornell University to study scientific farming. At the suggestion of his father, he was given a farm to run and manage for a year.

At the end of the year, Louis decided farming wasn't so hot and abandoned it for the Columbia School of Journalism. In the midst of his first year, he left and enlisted as a volunteer attaché to the French army during the war. Serving as a motor driver and liaison officer attached to French divisions, he spent more than three years in France, remaining there for some time after the war.

Returning to New York, he again became a newspaper man, working for the City News Association and later for the Associated Press. Then followed a period in which he wrote music and theatre criticism and hustled as general assistant to a theatrical manager, and also advertising and publicity head for a publishing house.

SAVES ROBBER'S LIFE
Oakland, Cal., March 30.—Kenneth Amundsen's alleged attempt to rob George Morris, ship engineer, yesterday ended in Amundsen being saved from drowning in the bay by his alleged intended robbery victim. Authorities said Amundsen boarded the ship Ryder Hanity and without a revolver attempted to rob Morris. Fearing capture, Amundsen leaped overboard and Morris threw him a rope. Morris refused to press a charge.

A Woman's Idea of a Good Husband Is One Who Tells His Wife How Beautiful She Is, Who Gives Her a Liberal Allowance and Makes Excuses for Her Temper and Who Never Looks at Another Woman

WHAT kind of husband do women want, anyway? demands an exasperated man. Well, brother, a real portrait of a woman's ideal husband would show a composite picture of Valentino and Henry Ford and Job, for what every woman expects to get when she marries, and considers herself cheated when she doesn't, is a man who can make love with one hand and money with the other and who never gets irritable or peevish.

A woman's idea of a good husband is one who tells her how young and beautiful she is and how much better-looking she is now than she was when they were married. If she is skinny, he says that when it comes to figures she has all these flappers left at the post biting their thumbs. If she acquires a feather-bed figure, he calls her plump and says home of your living skeletons for him. He likes a good armful.

And he always notices her clothes and the way she does her hair and tells her that her boyish bob makes her look like her own granddaughter or that that little curl on the nape of her neck caught him. If she has on an old dress, he tells her how he loves her in that blue and that it just suits her style. If she has on a new dress, he swears that it is a knockout, and he never, never tells her that her new hat is too young for her and makes her look like old sheep masquerading as lamb or that she looks like a saleratus biscuit in that new green party frock.

And he eats his dinner to the beating of cymbals celebrating his luck in having got the world's best cook. He doesn't throw mother's biscuit in her teeth. He tells her her own are the best ever and he boasts to his friends and acquaintances about what a marvelous manager she is and how she pinches every nickel until she makes the buffalo howl in agony.

And he is liberal about money and never asks: "What did you do with that quarter I gave you week before last?" And when she wants a new hat he doesn't cry out in agony: "My heavens, woman, have you got a dozen heads to cover? Why, you have already had seven this season. You must think that I am a counterfeiter and can make money by the sale instead of a poor grocer who earns it by the penny."

Ah, no, a woman's ideal husband says: "Why, certainly, darling, I simply adore seeing you in new hats. I saw some lovely ones in a store window marked only $35 apiece." And when the wife comes home late from a bridge party bringing in a day or two of something she has picked up at a deliquescent store on the way home, her ideal husband isn't waiting for her like a sore-headed bear and he doesn't ask her if she is trying to kill him feeding him out of paper bags and tell her that when a hard-working man comes home hungry at night he has a right to expect his wife to be on the job and have a good, piping hot meal ready for him.

Far from it. A woman's ideal man would have busied himself giving the house a good cleaning and hanging up the clothes his wife didn't have time for because she was in such a hurry to meet Jenny downtown and have lunch with her before they went to the bridge game. And he would have got a nice dinner ready for her and met her with a glad, sweet smile and told her that he realized, of course, that wives had to have diversion.

And a woman's ideal husband would call her temper nerves and would know that the reason she flew into rages was just because she was so high strung and temperamental and that the way to deal with her was just to let her have her own way in everything and be tactful and never do anything that irritated her.

And he would realize that she was somehow superior to all other women and couldn't be expected to do the things that they do. Such as working like Mary Jones. Or economizing like Eliza Smith. Or taking care of a brood of children like Lizzie Tompkins. And that she had to have things like new cars. And imported clothes. And jewelry. And trips south in the winter and to the mountains or the seashore in the summer.

And he would work very hard and do without vacations and clubs and good clothes and the things that he would like to have and consider it a privilege to make these sacrifices for the wonderful creature who had condescended to marry him.

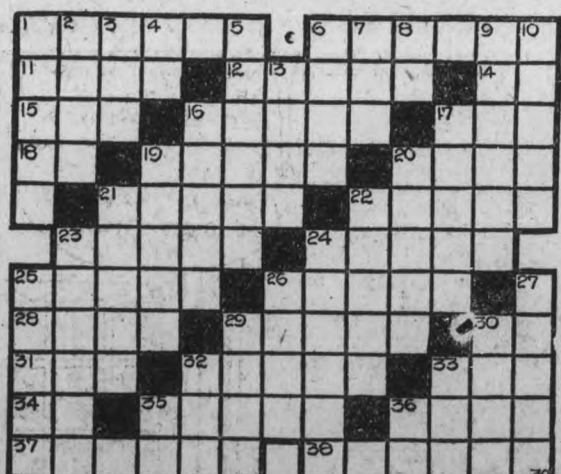

Preferably a woman's ideal husband would have no relatives of any kind whatever, but if he did have parents and brothers and sisters he would cast them into the discard when he got married and would never be selfish enough to trouble his wife by inviting them to his house or mean enough to give them any money or help them, but he would always welcome his wife's family with open arms and be ready to let her sisters sponge on him and to lend money to her no-account brothers.

And a woman's ideal husband would always be ready to step out with his wife when she felt like going, no matter how hard he had worked all day or he would be a fire-side companion if she had been shopping for hours and was tired. And, above all, he would be strong and forceful in the outer world, but a perfect worm of the dust who would let her trample him under foot at home and he would never look at another woman.

Not many women find their ideal husbands, because there are mighty few such docile, meek, hand-licking animals around. DOROTHY DIX.

APPROVED OF MORE TAXATION

Companies Were Consulted
Says Minister Discussing
Taxation Act
But Public Were Ignored on 1
Per Cent Tax Levy Says
Pattullo

Questioning by T. D. Pattullo, opposition leader, adduced in the Legislature Saturday night, that the canning industry, the banks, the express and telegraph companies had all been consulted by the government with regard to the taxation changes affecting them and that they had all expressed themselves as perfectly satisfied.

"That is a notable confession," commented Mr. Pattullo. "But the people of this province were not consulted about the new taxes imposed upon them. I challenge the government to consult the people by an election on this issue."

Hon. J. W. Jones, who was piloting the Taxation Act amendments through the House, said the government would hold an election when it considered the step wise.

The discussion began on the changes affecting the fisheries industry. Mr. Jones said the industry would pay the license or income tax, whichever was greater. Further questions drew Hon. S. L. Howe, Commissioner of Fisheries, into the discussion. Mr. Howe said the license would henceforth constitute the only taxation on the industry.

MINISTERS DISAGREE

"There we have two ministers in disagreement," commented Mr. Pattullo sharply, whereupon Mr. Howe stated that the industry found the license perfectly acceptable.

L. A. Hanna said one section of the canners were satisfied with the license, but others were neither satisfied with the license nor with the Commissioner of Fisheries.

"Will canneries not operating next year pay the license?" asked A. M. Manson.

"That is for the government to decide," said Mr. Howe.

"That is an amazing statement; the government admits it does not know what it is going to do," exclaimed Mr. Manson.

"Oh, yes we do," said Mr. Howe.

"Then tell us," demanded Mr. Manson. "The Legislature is in session and we are entitled to know."

"The government will consult the canneries and do what is fair to the industry," said Mr. Howe.

"In other words, the government does not know what it is going to do," replied Mr. Manson. "This taxation by order-in-council is a violation of every British tradition."

"The industry is consulted to see how much it can stand, but the public are not consulted as to what they can stand," added Mr. Pattullo.

Further questioning elicited that the telegraph and express companies were satisfied with the flat rate taxation on them and that the banks were satisfied with the taxation on them, all having been consulted, according to Mr. Jones.

WOULD ABOLISH LIQUOR PERMITS

Abolition of the system of permits for the purchase of beer and liquors was advocated by L. A. Hanna, Liberal, during discussion of amendments to the Liquor Act in the Legislature Saturday.

Consensus of opinion in British Columbia was, said Mr. Hanna, that people already paid an exorbitant price for liquor and the price of permits was an added cost. Personally he was not interested, but he thought there was merit in the argument that if people paid a big enough price for liquor there should be no extra charge through permits.

Mr. Hanna also took exception to the clause in the bill to amend the Liquor Act giving the right to the government to establish breweries. If they establish one they might want to establish more and go right into the liquor business, he thought.

The government should keep away from the liquor business as far as possible. The principle might apply to fruit, vegetables and everything else, said Mr. Hanna.

MUST REGISTER BY SATURDAY

Registrations for the new provincial voters' list must be made by next Saturday. All people who have not as yet registered are urged to call at one of the registration centres and record their names.

ACCIDENTS REPORTED

Two persons sustained minor injuries and another escaped in traffic accidents Saturday.

Henry Gobb, Salvation Army, received a slight cut over the eye when struck by a car on Government Street, near Johnson Street, shortly after 11 o'clock at night. He was given first aid at the police station.

Automobiles driven by J. W. Buckler, 1036 Caledonia Avenue, and James Logie, 1539 Bay Street, collided at the intersection of Fernwood Road and Denman Street about 8 o'clock in the evening, Mr. Buckler sustaining minor cuts and bruises.

William Bickford, 71 Menzies Street, was thrown from his bicycle in collision with a car at the intersection of View and Government Streets, but was unhurt.

FARMER PLEAS ARE REJECTED

Recommendations to Agricultural Committee Dealt With by Minister

Intimation that the government was not favorable to a recommendation of farmers' institutes to throw open reverted lands to pre-emption, as there appeared to be a rising market for them, which offered the government an opportunity to recover delinquent taxes, was given by Hon. N. S. Loughheed, Minister of Lands, in the Legislature Saturday. There were four million acres of surveyed lands available for pre-emption which on the average was as well suited as reverted lands, he said in referring to the report of the agricultural committee. The policy of canceling unsuitable subdivisions containing acreage desired for other purposes would also continue, he intimated.

On the farmers' recommendation that no charge be made for improvements on pre-emptions abandoned for three years or over, Mr. Loughheed saw no objection.

The minister saw no need to change the act to permit a pre-emptor to file on 320 acres instead of 100 acres. As the regulations now stood a pre-emptor might take up another claim in the vicinity when he had proved up on the first.

Regarding the Oriental problem, he hoped the federal government would go as far as it could in British Columbia's appeal for the exclusion of the Oriental.

NO PIONEER INSTINCT

Mr. Loughheed gave detailed statistics on the increase of the Oriental population of British Columbia. The Easterner was misinformed when he imagined Orientals filled up empty spaces, he said, as he had not the pioneer instinct and settled on improved land. He gave figures on Orientals in industry and noted the school problem being created by the increasing number of Orientals attending them. It was estimated, he said, there were 8,428 Orientals in the province, made up of 27,528 Japanese, 25,000 Chinese and 1,300 Hindus. Three quarters of lumber firms who had reported showed reductions of one-half in the number of Oriental employees. Orientals were turning now more to the land for a living.

No action was taken on the report, the chairman withdrawing it when T. D. Pattullo, leader of the opposition, pointed out it contained announcements of government policy and referred to several matters some of which members might wish to vote for and some which they might wish to oppose.

CLUB TO HOLD OVER BREWERS

That Is What T. D. Pattullo Says of New Amendment in Liquor Act

Power sought by the government to establish breweries provided in amendments to the Liquor Act were merely for the purpose of wielding "the big stick," the attorney-general himself had suggested the government had no intention of exercising the authority the bill provided, T. D. Pattullo remarked in the Legislature Saturday when second reading was given to the bill to amend the Liquor Act. The government's indecisive policy on beer was criticized by the leader of the opposition.

"This amendment is merely a club for the brewers. If it is not, what is it there for?" Mr. Pattullo asked in urging the government to make a clear statement of policy on the purchase of beer.

Liquor Act Is Failure Says Member

From the point of view of decreasing the use of liquor the Liquor Act had proved a failure in British Columbia. Dr. H. C. Winch, Liberal, Skeena, said in the Legislature Saturday, when amendments to the Liquor Act were considered. Persons who voted for liquor control with the idea of controlling the supply of liquor were disappointed, he said. Rather than limiting the use of alcoholic liquors it had increased it. Dr. Winch was supported by A. M. Manson, K.C., in the suggestion that the Liquor Control Board should live up to its name by financing the circulation of literature against the excessive use of alcohol and the importance of temperance. Mr. Manson remarked that all sane people were opposed to drinking in excess, and liquor profits might well be used to emphasize this fact.

The Minister of Education had this matter in hand, Premier Tolmie remarked.

Garden City

A large audience attended the concert given in Garden City United Church on Friday evening. Rev. J. C. Switzer acted as chairman and the programme included a pianoforte solo by Miss Gladys Kinsey, duets by Mrs. Pebernatt and Miss Blakeway, recitation by Miss Celia Lewis, cornet solos by Mr. Jacques and vocal solos by Mrs. Arthur Dowell, W. R. Woods and H. S. Butley. Mr. Butley gave a ventriloquist performance. Accompanists were Mrs. Matheson, Miss Gladys Kinsey and Mrs. Llewellyn Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Thomas who have been spending the winter with Mr. and Mrs. Hobden, Gladia Avenue, have returned to Spiers, Sask.
